GRID

	LISTENING	READING	SPOKEN INTERACTION
A1	I can understand familiar words and very basic phrases concerning myself, my family and immediate surroundings when people speak slowly and clearly.	I can understand familiar names, words and very simple sentences, for example, on notices and posters or in catalogues.	I can interact in a simple way if the other person is prepared to repeat or rephrase things at a slower rate of speech and help me formulate what I'm trying to say. I can ask and answer simple questions in areas of immediate need or on very familiar topics.	A1
A1+	I can understand and follow simple directions. I can understand simple questions concerning my experience, as well as simple everyday dialogues, supported with mimic and gestures.	I can understand simple illustrated texts, guides, game directions, instruction for the use of familiar things. I can find relevant information in simple and familiar texts.	I can greet other people and introduce myself. I can respond to the greeting and ask how someone feels. I can order food and drinks. I can do everyday shopping.	A1+
A2	I can understand phrases and the highest frequency vocabulary related to areas of most immediate personal relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, employment). I can catch the main point in short, clear, simple messages and announcements.	I can read very short, simple texts. I can find specific, predictable information in simple everyday material such as advertisements, prospectuses, menus and timetables and I can understand short simple personal letters.	I can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar topics and activities. I can handle very short social exchanges, even though I can't usually understand enough to keep the conversation going myself.	A2
A2+	I can understand everyday speech when the delivery is standard and clear. I can understand the main point of TV shows, films, where visual reception plays important role. I can understand the gist of short lectures, familiar stories, when speech is relatively slow and clear.	I can read simple texts about things I'm interested in, leaflets, short official documents, simple and clear instructions, short descriptions of events.	I can exchange opinions and information on familiar topics in predicted everyday situations. I can ask another person to help when I need it.	A2+
B1	I can understand the main points of clear standard speech on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc. I can understand the main point of many radio or TV programmes on current affairs or topics of personal or professional interest when the delivery is relatively slow and clear.	I can understand texts that consist mainly of high frequency everyday or job-related language. I can understand the description of events, feelings and wishes in personal letters.	I can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken. I can enter unprepared into conversation on topics that are familiar, of personal interest or pertinent to everyday life (e.g. family, hobbies, work, travel and current events).	B1
B1+	I can understand speech with requests and problems explanations. I can understand contents of conversations, discussions, lectures and reports on familiar topics, although cannot recognise some phrases and expressions.	I can understand simple familiar information in letters, leaflets, directions, newspaper articles. I can understand the gist of specialised simple structured texts within my own field.	I can hold a conversation on familiar topics without delays and pauses, using simple language tools. I can explain my attitude and respond to the questions. I can summarise and synthesise information.	B1+
B2	I can understand extended speech and lectures and follow even complex lines of argument provided if the topic is reasonably familiar. I can understand most TV news and current affairs programmes. I can understand the majority of films in standard dialect.	I can read articles and reports concerned with contemporary problems in which the writers adopt particular attitudes or viewpoints. I can understand contemporary literary prose.	I can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible. I can take an active part in discussion in familiar contexts, accounting for and sustaining my views.	B2

WARM UP

WHAT IS THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROGRAM LIKE AT YOUR SCHOOL?

- During the year, we have (weekly English lessons / extra-curricular language activities / speaking clubs /...)
- At our school, we also (speak English with foreign students / have English-speaking parties / make pen-pal connections /...)

HOW OFTEN DO YOU USE ENGLISH OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM?

- I try to (read English books / look up new words in the dictionary / watch English films with subtitles /...)
- I use my English when (sending text messages / travelling abroad / using social media sites like Facebook/...)

WHY ARE YOU STUDYING ENGLISH?

- I am studying English because I (will use it in my work one day / will need it in life / think it is a part of a good education /...)

IS LEARNING A FOREIGN LANGUAGE EASY FOR YOU? WHY?

- I find it easy because (I have a good memory / I have a wonderful teacher / I am very interested in the subject /...)
- I enjoy it because (I really like to learn new words / I have a talent for languages /...)

Focus on Reading and Vocabulary

1 Read and discuss the letter in class.

Congratulations! You're back to school again and you will be called a school leaver now as this year is the last one of your study at secondary school.

In ten months you're going to take your finals and make up your mind what to do in your personal future. You should be a good time manager and work hard to prepare for your exams as well as for making your own choice after school.

Learning is a precious gift to be treasured always. Whether you are from Kyiv or London, you all must appreciate and embrace study skills as the key to achievement of your dreams.

Why do you need to know English? English is becoming a global language. At least half a billion people in the world use English at home or work. Problems of the 21st century, such as problems of war and peace, democracy, ecology and demography cannot be solved if people cannot speak the same language. Interpreters take time and now time is as precious as never before. So, dear boys and girls, don't waste your time. Go on studying English each and every day.

And finally, I'd like to wish you all a long, fruitful and happy life!

*Yours sincerely,
the author of the book*

2 a) Choose the correct word and complete each sentence.

- 1 Could you (translate / interpret) this paragraph into English, please?
- 2 I'm sorry, I can't read your handwriting. What does this word (say / mean)?
- 3 Can anyone tell me the (meaning / understanding) of 'shiver'?
- 4 How do you (pronounce / spell) 'accomodation'? Does it have one 'm' or 'mm'?

b) Speak on what you find to be the easiest and the most difficult about learning English. Choose from the box and explain why.

grammar, spelling, pronunciation, vocabulary,
reading, writing, speaking

3 Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

- How do you organise your learning process?
- How much time do you need to do English tasks?
- Are you a motivated learner or you are forced to learn English?
- How often do you speak English outside the classroom?
- How often do you write in English?
- How often do you read in English?
- Have you got any chance to watch English video?

4 a) Read the article quickly. Refer the paragraphs (1-5) to the headings (A-E) on page 8.

- 1 Language is the most powerful tool we have for reaching out to others. We can use it to express our feelings, to spread our ideas, and even to establish peace.
- 2 Learning English is like learning to swim or play ball. We learn to swim by swimming, to play ball by playing ball, and to speak English by speaking English.

- 3 Acquiring the ability to use a language automatically, that is to think without stopping to think, is a process of habit formation¹. Forming a habit, any kind of habit, requires² much practice.
 - 4 Learning English efficiently requires that you put your mind on what you are doing and have the intention and will to learn. The time you have is so short that you cannot afford to waste³ it by giving less than your full cooperation in class and in home studies. In other words, you have to build up language habits in English just as you build up language habits in your mother tongue⁴.
 - 5 Good luck to you then in your learning English! It's up to you. Nobody can learn to swim for you. Nobody can learn English for you. You have to learn it by yourself, and you will learn if you really want to and are willing to practise. Language is not to be taught, language is to be learnt.
- A Concentration will bring its own reward.
 - B Language is the key to the outer world.
 - C Teaching or learning?
 - D Just another habit.
 - E Learning English through action.

b) Read the article again and discuss the questions in groups.

- 1 What does the author mean saying that learning English is like learning to swim?
- 2 Do you have any opportunity to speak English?
- 3 What do you prefer — to read or speak English?
- 4 What does it mean “to acquire the ability to use a language automatically”?
- 5 What does it mean ‘the process of habit formation’?
- 6 What does the author mean saying that “language is not to be taught, language is to be learnt”?

¹formation [fɔ:'meɪʃn] — утворення, формування

²to require [rɪ'kwəɪə] — вимагати

³to waste [weɪst] — марнувати

⁴mother tongue [tʌŋ] — рідна мова

5 Read about the people below and decide which course (A-F) on pages 9-10 would be the most suitable for each person.

Lee is going to the university in Sweden next year and wants to spend this year improving her English. She wants to meet people from other parts of the world and have a good social life.

Abraham is a journalist. He knows quite a lot of English, but he wants to improve his writing skills. He works long hours on weekdays at an office in London.

Yoko is visiting England for the first time this summer. He'll stay for a month there and hopes to make new friends, but is rather shy, so he'd like a school with lots of out-of-class activities.

Tina lives with a family in London and looks after their little girls during the day. She studies on her own but also needs a language course that will help her prepare for her exams.

Suzy is 45. She would like to follow an individual course of study somewhere quiet and comfortable with a private teacher.

A

This excellent school is an attractive suburb of Brighton. It offers courses in general English from three to twelve months. Accommodation is carefully chosen and the school is famous for its programme of activities beyond the classroom. Teenagers and young adults come here from over thirty different countries to study hard and enjoy themselves, too.

- 6 In groups, speak on why you want to learn English. Use the scheme below.

- 7 In groups of three or four, try to find as many words as you can which are identical in English and your own language (for example: radio, lift). The winner is the group with the longest list. Set a time limit.

- 8 a) Skim the short article in one minute. Which of the following sentences describes the main idea of the text?
- It is important to speak English if you want to be successful in business.
 - Most of the world's mail is written in English.
 - English is the most widely used language in the world.

English is the second most commonly spoken, and by far the most widespread of the world's languages. It is estimated that there are 350 million native speakers, 300 million who use English as a second language and a further billion using it as a foreign language. English is spoken by scientists, pilots, computer experts, diplomats and tourists; it is the language of the world! Do you know that over 50% of all business deals are conducted in English? And over 70% of all mail is written and addressed in English? It is the official or co-official language of over 45 countries and furthermore, it is spoken extensively in other countries where it has no official status. It is perhaps, therefore, not surprising that in recent years we have seen a dramatic increase in the number of students opting to study abroad. In the future this will cement the role that English plays in the cultural, political or economic life of many countries around the world from Australia to Zambia.

(From IELTS express Intermediate Coursebook, 2004.)

b) Look at the numbers below and say what they refer to. Match each number with its reference.

over 70% the amount of business done in English over 50% the amount of mail written in English

c) Scan the text again in 30 seconds to check your answers in (b).

Focus on Speaking

1 Match each question (1-6) with the appropriate answer (a-f).

Work in pairs.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 Do you enjoy learning English? | a Well, I have one brother and one sister. |
| 2 What do you do in your free time? | b I'm afraid I don't like it very much. I think it's really difficult, especially the grammar. |
| 3 Do you plan to study abroad? | c I haven't really decided yet. I guess I'd like to one day, maybe in Canada or Australia. |
| 4 Do you have any brothers or sisters? | d Actually, my parents moved around a lot and I've lived in many cities. Now I live in Odesa. |
| 5 What's your job? | e I have a part-time job in a local shop. In fact, I've worked there for more than three years. |
| 6 Where do you live? | f It depends. I often go out with my friends, but sometimes I enjoy just reading in my room. |

USEFUL

Using words or expressions like 'actually', 'well', 'I guess' or 'It depends' will make you sound more natural when you speak.

LANGUAGE

2 Role-play the situation in pairs.

Student A, you're the examiner. Choose some questions from task 1. For each question think of follow-up questions (why, when, where, who with, etc.) and interview student B for 4 or 5 minutes. Listen to the student B's answers carefully. Did he or she give short or extended¹ answers?

¹extended [ɪk'stendɪd] — розширений, широкий

Student B, you are the student.

Imagine you are in the exam.

Introduce yourself briefly and then listen to the examiner's questions. Answer as fully as possible, giving two or three additional pieces of information for each question. Follow the Useful Tips. When you've finished, change roles with your partner.

Example:

A: Where do you live?

B: Now I live in London, but before that I have been studying in Ireland — for 2 years. Actually, it was great. I was living in the countryside and it was very peaceful. Not like London — it's so busy and noisy! I guess I'll get used to London eventually — it just takes time to adjust, doesn't it?

- 3 a) Write ten sentences about yourself. Five should be true and five should be false. Choose topics in the box below.

Where you come from

Your age

Your family

Your leisure activities

Your personality

A problem you have

What languages you speak

Your favourite kind of music

Countries you've visited

What you're going to do this weekend

A book you're reading at the moment

What you did yesterday evening

Something important that's happened to you recently

- b) Give a piece of paper to the person sitting next to you. Can he/she tell which sentences are true and which are false?

4 a) Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

- How do you begin letters in English?
- How do you end a letter to a close friend?
- How do you end a letter to a stranger?
- Name the main parts of a letter.

b) Read the instructions below and write a letter.

- You have just finished a short language course in Scotland.
- You are writing a letter to an English-speaking friend.
- Tell him or her what you did at the course, how you spent your free time and what the other people were like.
- You can use the information from the timetable below and the beginning of the letter on the opposite page to help you.

Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri
Language Lessons	Language Lessons	Language Lessons	FREE TIME	Museum Visit
LUNCH
Sport	Art	FREE TIME	Language Lessons	Language Lessons
Evenings: Social activities

Dear ...,

I've just finished a short language course in Scotland and I want to tell you all about it

c) Check your writing after you have finished it, using a checklist below. Use it every time you practise writing something.

Checklist	✓
Have you included all the notes?
Have you used paragraphs?
Have you written the right number of words?
Have you linked the points clearly?
Have you started sentences in different ways so that it is interesting to read?
Have you checked your grammar or spelling mistakes?
Have you used a range of vocabulary?
Are there any words you have used too many times?
Have you started and ended the letter or email correctly?
Have you used the right style for the person you're writing to?

5 Discuss the following questions in groups.

- How long have you been learning English?
- Why do people need English?
- When have you had an opportunity to speak or read English?
- Have you ever been to an English-speaking country?
- What do you think about the idea that a language gets rusty¹ if it is not practised?
- Can you follow TV programmes in English on satellite television?
- Can you understand songs in English?
- Do you have problems learning English? What are they?
- Have you ever taken private lessons?
- What do you find easy about English, and what do you find difficult (think about pronunciation, learning new vocabulary, grammar, spelling, listening, reading, understanding, translating, etc.)?

¹rusty [ˈrʌsti] — занедбаний, забутий

Being a Student

Unit 1

DESCRIBE YOUR CLASSROOM.

- In our classroom there are (two / three...) rows of desks, each desk for (one / two...) students, with an aisle in between.
- At the front there is (a teacher's desk / a blackboard with chalk / a white board with markers /...).
- We have some (maps / pictures /...) on the walls.

WARM UP

WHAT IS THERE IN YOUR SACHEL AND PENCIL CASE?

- In my satchel I have (books / a pencil case / a snack /...).
- There are (pens / pencils / markers /...) in my pencil case.

WHAT SCHOOL SUBJECTS ARE YOU GOOD AT?

- My favourite subject is (physical education /...) because we can (play games in the gym / go swimming...).
- I am very good at (geography / history /...). I find it quite (interesting / useful /...)

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT EXAMINATIONS AT SCHOOL?

- I prefer (written exams / tests /...) to (oral exams /...) because I have time for (thinking / reading /...) and may concentrate more on the answer.

Focus on Reading and Vocabulary

- 1 a) Think and say who is the best in your class in the following subjects:

- Biology
- English
- Maths
- Chemistry
- Geography
- Literature
- Physics
- History
- Music

- b) Work in groups. Interview one of the students to find out what helps him/her to achieve good results in this or that subject. Mention the items below.

- 1 reading supplementary information on the subject
- 2 doing extra activities on the subject
- 3 attending subject courses or clubs
- 4 responsibility for their own learning
- 5 working out their own learning strategies
- 6 use all resources available
- 7 high self-motivation
- 8 good time management
- 9 good memory
- 10 knowledge about their learning type

- c) Share your results with other groups.

- 2 Read the magazine article. Choose the paragraph from A-H (page 20) which best suits each gap (1-7). There is an extra paragraph.

INDEPENDENT LANGUAGE LEARNING

Research shows that language learners who make the most progress are those who are prepared to take responsibility for their own learning. This is known as independent or autonomous learning. But what does this actually involve?

1 Independent learners also keep organised vocabulary notebooks. They don't just write down new words on scraps of paper. For instance, they organise new vocabulary by topic. This means that they can easily find words they have decided to make a note of, which makes accessing and learning them easier.

2 But independent language learning isn't just about using dictionaries and keeping organised notebooks. Independent language learners are also more likely to actually use the language outside the classroom.

3 Besides cinema and television, independent learners also enjoy listening to songs in the target language. But it's not just the music that they are interested in. They listen to the words, too, and try and work out their meanings.

4 Independent learning is not confined to reading and listening. This kind of learner also likes to produce language. This does not only mean inside the classroom, but outside it, too.

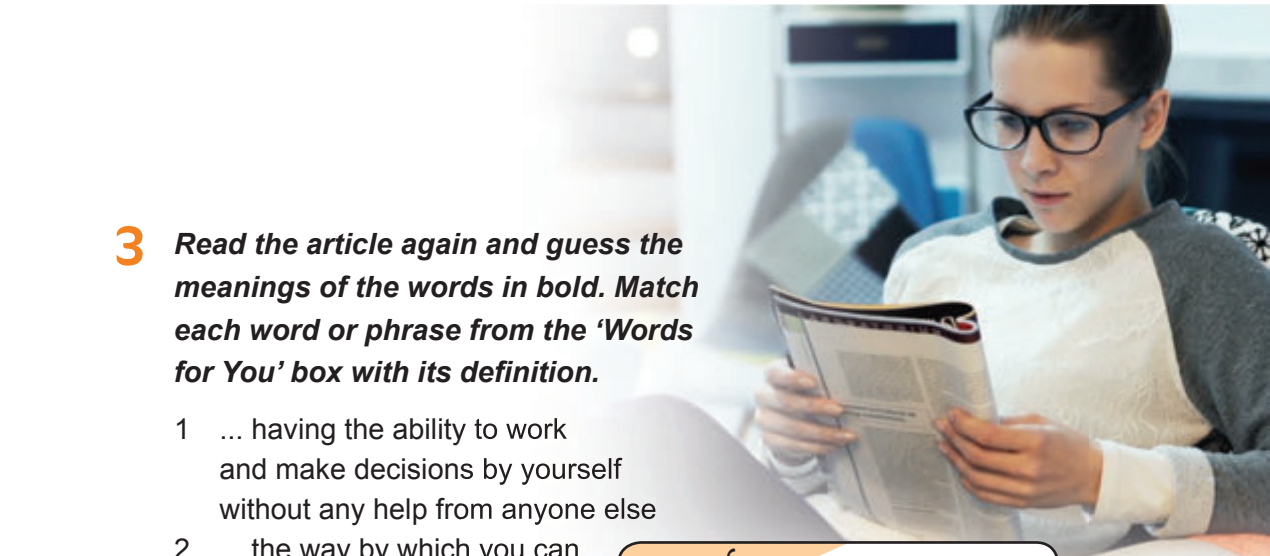

5 They will be perfectly at home with writing, as well. They will probably be using the language on the Internet in chat rooms and writing emails to friends in other countries.

6 There are several answers to these questions. First of all, a student learning the language in a country where that language is not spoken might only have a couple of lessons a week. This means that those who use it outside the lessons are getting more exposure and practice.

7 At the end of the day, we don't actually know precisely how people learn languages, but it seems clear that if we want to improve our chances of learning one well, we should try and use it both inside and outside the classroom.

3 Read the article again and guess the meanings of the words in bold. Match each word or phrase from the 'Words for You' box with its definition.

- 1 ... having the ability to work and make decisions by yourself without any help from anyone else
- 2 ... the way by which you can enter a place
- 3 ... an aim as a result that you want to achieve
- 4 ... to make facts known or to say things that make a person (or an event) known to a lot of people
- 5 ... receiving special attention, help or treatment
- 6 ... if it is educational, it is something such as a book, film or picture, etc. used by teachers or students to provide information and training
- 7 ... be in charge of something or someone, so that you make decisions and can be blamed if something bad happens
- 8 ... a well-planned series of actions for achieving an aim
- 9 ... exactly
- 10 ... enjoyable or unusual, and worth remembering

WORDS

- a resource [rɪ'sɔ:s]
- a strategy ['strætədʒi]
- a target ['tɑ:ɡɪt]
- to access ['ækses]
- autonomous [ɔ:'tɒnəməs]
- favoured ['feɪvəd]
- memorable ['memərəbl]
- precisely [prɪ'saɪsli]
- to get exposure
- to take responsibility (for)

FOR YOU

4 Complete the sentences on the basis of the article.

- 1 If you take responsibility for your own learning, you will ...
- 2 Autonomous learner doesn't need a ...
- 3 Independent language learners use ...
- 4 The important resources for autonomous learner are ...
- 5 They use the Internet to ...
- 6 If you want to improve your chances of learning at least one foreign language well, you should ...

Develop Your Vocabulary

1 Organise the phrases in the box according to the headings (1, 2).

1 A good teacher (is) ...

2 A good student (is) ...

makes good progress, a good listener, good at explaining things, uses modern methods, concerned about the students, always marks homework on time, pays attention in class, works hard to pass an exam / to take an exam

Look: I am going to take the exam in June.

I really hope I'll pass! If I don't pass, I will take the exam again in November.

know / find out

If you know something, you already have the information.

Andy knows what time the train leaves.

If you find something out, you learn new information for the first time.

I found it out recently.

learn, teach or study?

To learn is to get new knowledge or skills.

I want to learn how to drive.

When you teach someone, you give him/her new knowledge or skills.

My dad taught me how to drive.

When you study you go to classes, read books, etc. try to understand new ideas and facts.

He is studying biology at university.

VOCABULARY
LINKS

2 Match the words with their definitions.

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| 1 to assist | a to become a member of an organisation |
| 2 to attend | b to help |
| 3 to get to know | c to spend time with someone or something so that you gradually learn more about them |
| 4 to join | d to go to an event, place, etc. |

Build Up Your Grammar

1 a) Refresh what you learnt about Conditionals last year.

Put the type (I or II) into the boxes to complete the rules.

- 1 Conditionals are used for future results, predictions, promises, threats and warnings.
- 2 Conditionals are used for unreal situations in the present and for the situations that are unlikely to happen in the future.

b) Refer each sentence to the correct type of Conditionals (I or II).

- 1 Virtual friends would be more interesting than real friends.
- 2 If Anthony gets a scholarship, he will be studying at Cambridge this time next year.
- 3 We won't finish this job on time unless we start right away, so let's get down to work.
- 4 What would you do if you won the lottery?
- 5 If you worked harder, you'd probably do better.
- 6 If we miss the last bus, my dad will come and pick us up.

The conditional clause can start with if, even if or unless.

It'll be great if Garry comes.

It'll be boring unless Garry comes.

Carl won't go to the party

GRAMMAR
LINKS

2 Fill in the blanks with if, even if or unless.

- 1 David will come ... you invite him.
- 2 David won't know about the party ... you tell him.
- 3 Clive hates parties and won't come ... you invite him.
- 4 This is too big a job. We won't finish it on time ... we start right away.
- 5 We won't finish this job on time ... we start right away, so let's get down to work.

The verb in the conditional clauses of the 1st type is in a present tense even though it refers to a future event.

Present Simple: We'll have a barbecue if the weather is fine.

Present Perfect: I'll cook you something if you haven't eaten.

Present Continuous: If you're doing your homework when I arrive, I'll be as quiet as a mouse.

Present Perfect Continuous: He'll be tired when he gets home if he's been working all day.

3 Fill in the gaps with the appropriate form of the verb in brackets.

- 1 I won't disturb you if you ... when I arrive. (work)
- 2 I'll lend you the video if you ... it. (not see)
- 3 He will be in a bad mood when we arrive if he ... for long. (wait)
- 4 They'll get lost unless they ... there before. (be)

In 1st CONDITIONALS the verb in the main clause can be in any of future tenses, structure going to, or Present Simple or Present Continuous in future meaning.

Future Simple: Paul will do it if you ask him.

Future Perfect: They'll have arrived by one pm unless their plane is late.

Future Continuous: Sarah will be waiting for us outside the cinema unless it's raining.

Future Perfect Continuous: If they don't come in the next five minutes, we'll have been waiting for over an hour.

going to: I'm going to scream if you do that again.

Present Continuous: I'm meeting Tanya after school if she doesn't have choir practice.

Present Simple: The plane arrives at three if it's on schedule.

4 Fill in the gaps with the appropriate form of the verb in brackets.

- 1 If Andy gets a scholarship, he ... at Cambridge this time next year. (study)

- 4 Sue has made a decision. She ... to Liz unless she apologises. (not talk)
- 5 It's all been arranged. We ... the party at Bill's if his parents go away for the weekend. (have)

If the future result is not certain, we use the modal verbs that express possibility: may, might, can or could.

If Hamlet kills Claudius, the guilt could drive him crazy.

If you go to Sarah's round dinnertime, you might get something to eat.

You may get lost if you go there by the back roads.

You can do it if you try.

5 Fill in the gaps with different modal verbs.

- 1 If we don't invite Jeffrey, he ... be offended.
- 2 Be careful. If you stand on the table, it ... collapse.
- 3 If you don't start preparing for the exam, you ... fail.
- 4 We ... get there quicker if we take the motorway.

Focus on Listening

4

Listen to the conversation between two friends and name the pieces of advice that one gives another.

5

Listen again and decide if the opinions below are expressed by Sara, Tony or both of them. Note 'S' for Sara, 'T' for Tony or 'B' for both.

- 1 Tests are not a good way of measuring someone's knowledge.
- 2 It can be hard to tell if students' works outside exams are their own ones.
- 3 You should turn your phone off when you study.
- 4 Make sure you have enough sleep before your exam.
- 5 Eating fish can help you perform better in tests.
- 6 Doing previous test papers can help you do better in examinations.
- 7 You should have a break every hour when studying.

1 In pairs, ask and answer the questions.

- 1 Do you write notes in pencil in your course book and revise them for tests? Why (not)?
- 2 Do you try talking to a partner during the school breaks and after classes only in English?
- 3 Do you revise new words every day? Why (not)?
- 4 Do you only work hard a few days before an exam? Why (not)?
- 5 Do you ever help your group mates if they don't understand anything? Why (not)?
- 6 Do you regularly make a list of your common mistakes? Why (not)?
- 7 Are you sure you know how to use your dictionary? Why (not)?
- 8 Do you study only the material that was given at the lesson and nothing else? Why (not)?
- 9 Do you have special time or special day for studying? Why (not)?
- 10 Do you keep a list of useful vocabulary in a special notebook? Why (not)?
- 11 Do you give the tests to yourself or study with friends and test each other? Why (not)?
- 12 Do you only learn what the teacher tells you to? Why (not)?
- 13 Do you have time only to attend the lessons? Do you have time for anything extra?
- 14 Do you write everything you know on your hand before you go into the exam? Why (not)?
- 15 Do you think that passing or failing an exam is a matter of luck? Why (not)?

2 In pairs, complete the dialogues with the sentences (a-c) and dramatise them.

A: ...

B: Was it really so bad?

A: ...

B: That was really bad luck.

Do you think you managed to do enough to pass?

A: ...

B: Oh, come on, don't be so pessimistic.

- a No, I think I'll definitely fail that exam.
- b That history exam was really awful.
- c Yes, it was. Only a couple of the topics, which I reviewed for the exam, came up.

2

A: Now come on, calm down, it's not the end of the world. It was just an exam.

B: ...

A: Why? What happened?

B: ...

A: But you answered the first two questions?

B: ...

A: Then stop worrying. I'm sure you did enough on those to pass.

- a I'd just started on the third and last question when my mind suddenly went blank. I couldn't remember anything of what I'd reviewed for that topic.
- b Well yes, but...
- c But it was absolutely awful. I just don't know why it happened.

3 Work in groups. Read the situation and prepare a five-minute talk on how to do well in school exams. Use the 'Useful Tips' below.

USEFUL

A Short Talk

- plan your talk, but DO NOT read it
- include all important information
- present your points in a simple, clear and direct way
- use informal language
- use transitional words / phrases

TIPS

- Some classmates of yours keep complaining about their grades. They claim that they spend hours preparing for the exams, but results are disastrous. Your results are impressive. You have decided to help your classmates.

Focus on Writing

1 Get some information and look through the examples below.

Notes are short pieces of writing, which help you to remember something. Due to the vast amount of information we receive, we have to put it in the briefest possible form. Notes usually take the form of words or short phrases.

We have already stated that preparing well for the writing assignment is a key element in a successful accomplishment of your task. Discussing and taking notes can be very helpful in the prewriting stage of the writing process.

Making notes can take various forms depending largely on what type of a person you are. However, there are certain characteristics that are common to all forms of making notes:

1 use abbreviations, but make sure you can understand them later

2 use words like 'and', 'because', but and 'therefore' to show how ideas relate to each other

3 put each new idea on a new line

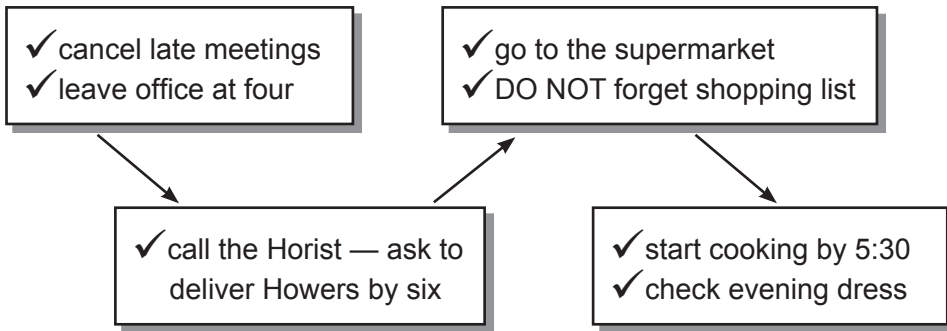

4 leave a lot of space so you can expand your ideas later

DO NOT write complete sentences.
Notes must be SHORT

2 Read about some ways of making notes and discuss the questions in groups.

- Which of the offered methods of note taking would suit you best? Why?

a) FLOW CHART (Having Friends for Dinner)

b) CLUSTERING (Travelling to the Island of Fuji)

c) LISTING (Traditional Holidays Are Dying Out)

- 1 the idea of a traditional holiday has changed significantly in the past decade
- 2 people in general have become more demanding and expect better quality for their money
- 3 love of adventure has always been a part of the human nature
- 4 new means of transport have enabled us to travel more easily and faster
- 5 more people can afford these new types of holidays due to more reasonable prices

3 Choose one of the topic sentences below and make notes. Write a paragraph in 80-100 words.

- 1 Mathematics has always been my favourite subject at school.
- 2 Independent language learning has several advantages.

4 Read and discuss the information in pairs.

A summary is a short statement that gives only the main points and not the details of a longer text.

A well-written summary should be concise (only essential information should be included), complete (all important information must be included) and clear, i.e. understandable to the reader. At last, a summary must be correct. It must convey the exact meaning of the original text.

A summary must be written in full sentences.

Don't mix up paraphrasing and summarising! Paraphrasing is "rewriting" information from another source in your own words without changing its meaning. Since you have to include almost all the original information, a paraphrase is almost as long as the original. On the other hand, a summary includes only the essential information, which makes it much shorter than the original text.

However, changing the original meaning is not allowed in either a summary or a paraphrase.

WRITING
POINT

5 Choose a text from a newspaper or a magazine and read it. First determine the number of words and then write your own summaries. Comment on each other's summary regarding the characteristics of a good summary.

Use Your Skills

1 Complete the text with the correct words from the box.

4 Read the information in the box and get ready to hold the class debate.

Then follow the instructions below.

- 1 Form three groups.
 - The first two groups should prepare arguments for either accepting or rejecting the motion, present their arguments and be ready to answer the questions from the other group.
 - The third group should listen to both groups and decide whether to accept or reject the motion providing arguments for their decision. Before making the decision, the third group can put questions to both groups.
- 2 Allow time for the groups to prepare their arguments.
- 3 Group presentations.
- 4 Asking and answering the questions.
- 5 Presenting the decision.

CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT OR ONE FINAL EXAMINATION?

A proposal for education reform is being discussed by students, teachers, parents, experts, etc. It still hasn't been decided how students will be assessed at the end of their secondary school education.

Before making the final decision, the Ministry of Education is interested in what students have to say about this rather controversial¹ issue.

¹controversial [ˌkɒntɹəˈvɜːʃl] — спірний, дискусійний

Listening

3 Listen to the four international students talking about how they memorise words. Match them with the strategies they use.

Johan

Analytical: thinking about the structure of words

Basia

Visual: writing, drawing, connecting photos with words

Pablo

Self-testing: doing personal tests or asking someone at home to test you

Hilmi

Oral: saying words aloud, making connections between words

Reading

4 a) Read the student's presentation on learning styles and complete the form below.

Right, well, er... my talk today is on learning styles. I chose this because there is a lot of research into it and it seems as if nobody really agrees on how to assess learning styles. I'll start by outlining some competing theories about.

How people learn... There aren't any handouts, I'm afraid, but anyway... One theory is the VARK system. V-A-R-K means V for visual, A for auditory, like hearing, R for reading and K for, I don't know how to pronounce this... kinaesthetic? Yes, that's it. Kinaesthetic. That means things like

movement and stuff.

Anyway, according to the VARK system, depending on your learning style, you learn in different ways. If you're a visual learner, then you need to use charts and pictures, use colour highlighting in your notes, and stuff. If you're an auditory learner, then reading aloud and listening will help you learn. Reading is just reading, of course. You learn by reading. Kinesthetic learners need to move around while they learn. You're a kind of hands-on person if you're that kind of a learner, so you should revise while standing up and walking around the room, for example. Anyway, that's just one theory. There are lots of others, too.

So, to conclude then, personally I think that we all have our own learning styles and we are not just one type or another. In other words, we are probably a blend of lots of styles. I don't think any of the learning styles I've told you about is better than any other. I think the problem is that we all learn in different ways, and try to find a system to fit in all the different ways we learn. We are too creative to be boxed in like that. Not everything about the human brain can be mapped and predicted. How we learn is different for each person, so the point I'm making is I don't know how useful it is to try to categorise everyone into types.

- A good boss should be (understanding / sociable / generous...).
- If you have done well, he/she should (notice it / reward you /...).
- If you failed at something, both of you should (analyze the mistakes /...) together.

Focus on Reading and Vocabulary

1 Work in small groups. Read and discuss the following.

Here are some qualities that employers often look for when selecting candidates for a job. Do you think that these qualities are acquired more at school or outside school?

- to be willing to learn
- to be willing to travel
- to be able to cope with difficult situations
- to be open-minded
- to work in a team
- to communicate well with people
- to show initiative
- to show responsibility
- to show persistence (the ability to keep going when things get tough)

2 Read the article quickly and decide which of the messages below (A-C) is the main message of the article.

Many school-leavers in the UK take what is called a gap year — a year between leaving school and further education.

In this gap year, they do voluntary or paid work, often abroad.

- A Students who take a gap year and use it well have an advantage over those who go straight from school to university.
- B Students who take a gap year mature more quickly.
- C There are many ways in which a school-leaver can usefully spend a year between school and university.

FILL THAT GAP

(1) People who take a year out before going to university and use that time to gain more skills are more attractive candidates for jobs than those who go straight from school to university, according to the research for the Department for Education. The research says that employers are particularly interested in the skills that students pick up when travelling, volunteering and working, because they do not trust universities to teach the arts of communication, teamwork and leadership.

(2) There are many reasons why there is a growing number of students who take a gap year. There are school-leavers who are happy to be out of the school system at last and want to have some time to do something interesting or crazy before they go back into the educational system. There are those who want to earn money to pay their university fees. There are those who feel they want to do something useful with their lives and there are those who want to get away from home and see the world while they can. Finally, there are those who want to prepare themselves better for the job market once they get their degrees. Jamie Underwood, a founder of a gap year agency, says, "It's a brilliant thing to do. If you're focusing on getting ahead, employers love it: it shows character, confidence, achieving goals and persistence."

FOR YOU

(3) School-leavers can choose from a wide range of activities for their gap year. They can take part in an adventure project, like an expedition to some remote corner of the earth, which can be really exciting and it has the advantage of travelling as part of a group and making some life-long friends. They can work on a conservation or environmental project, like conducting an underwater survey of a coral reef or monitoring endangered species. They can do temporary or seasonal work abroad and this way get insight into a very different way of life. They can join a humanitarian project, such as doing social work with people in need. Or they can join a structured work experience programme and gain valuable experience and practical skills in their chosen field. Mr Underwood says, “I ma-tured during my gap year. I grew up. You come back with a real sense of achievement and a new perspective on life.”

(4) But some locations aren't for the faint-hearted. Voluntary work can be tough. You may be out in the middle of nowhere, feeling isolated and having trouble coping with the complete culture shock. So it's important to research the opportunities fully and take time to read what other 'gappers' have to say about their experience of volunteering overseas. And it's also important to plan the year properly. According to the research of the Department for Education and Skills, too many students fail to plan properly and do not take advantage of the opportunities on offer. This can turn the gap into a blank hole. As Mr Underwood says, “There's a great difference between doing a structured placement and going on an extended holiday in some exotic place. Students who are doing volunteering get an awful lot of good experiences. Employers are falling over themselves for those maturing skills, which they think universities don't give.”

3 Read the article again paying attention to the words in bold and consulting a dictionary if necessary. Decide which of the following messages (a-g) is not included in it.

- a Students who do voluntary or paid work in their gap year have a better chance of getting a job after university.
- b Employers look for much more than educational qualifications.
- c Many students use their gap year to pay for their university education.
- d Voluntary work in another culture can broaden your view of the world.
- e Some students can have negative gap year experiences.
- f A number of students do not use their gap year well.
- g Some students find it difficult to adjust to further education after a gap year.

4 Match the words with their definitions.

- | | |
|-----------------|--|
| 1 confidence | a to become fully grown or developed |
| 2 extended | b someone who does something without being paid |
| 3 faint-hearted | c the belief that you have the ability to do things well or deal with the situation successfully |
| 4 isolated | d a quality that gives a person ability to continue to do something although this is difficult |
| 5 to mature | e abroad |
| 6 overseas | f to believe that someone is honest and will not harm you, cheat on you, etc. |
| 7 persistence | g difficult |
| 8 tough | h increased, longer in time or bigger in size |
| 9 to trust | i not trying very hard, because you do not want to do something, or you are not confident that you can succeed |
| 10 a volunteer | j feeling alone and unable to meet or speak to other people |

WORK or JOB?

Work is something you do to earn money. This noun is uncountable.
She enjoys her work in the hospital.

Job is used to talk about the particular type of work activity which you do.
He's looking for a job in computer programming.

POSSIBILITY, OCCASION or OPPORTUNITY?

A possibility is a chance that something may happen or be true.
'Possibility' cannot be followed by an infinitive.

Is there a possibility of getting a job in your organisation?

An occasion is an event, or a time when something happens.
'Occasion' does not mean 'chance' or 'opportunity'.

Birthdays are always special occasions.

An opportunity is a possibility of doing something, or a situation which gives you the possibility of doing something.

*The trip to Paris gave me an opportunity to speak French.
I have more opportunity to travel than my parents did.*

Direct Speech (Пряма мова)

Direct speech is the words that people actually say. When we write direct speech, we use speech marks (" "). We usually use said when we write direct speech: "I'm very happy," she said. "What about you?"

Reported Speech (Непряма мова)

Reported Speech is used to express what others say (said, have said, etc). When we report a statement (твердження) in the present we can use say or tell: My friends say I am lucky. (It means they always say this about me.) When we report statements in the past we use said or told: My friends told me I was lucky. (It means they say this about the situation in the past.)

With tell the object pronoun must be used:

They told me (that)...

She told him (that)...

- 1 Study the examples, then write 'say' or 'tell' in the blanks to complete the sentences below.

"I have my lunch at school," he said.

He said (that) he had his lunch at school.

He said to Sally (that) he had his lunch at school.

He told Sally (that) he had his lunch at school.

- 1 Jane ... (that) she wanted to learn how to use reported speech.
- 2 Mary ... us (that) she had done her homework already.
- 3 She ... to Tom (that) she was going to join the judo club at school.
- 4 Lucy ... me (that) she couldn't come to the party.
- 5 Our teacher ... (that) he wasn't going to give us any homework for Monday.
- 6 They ... us (that) the pupils got a lot of work to do.
- 7 Suzan ... (that) she hadn't visited her granny yet.
- 8 Nobody ... me (that) I had to do this.

Reported Speech: Tenses

form We usually change the tenses and certain words when we report what someone said.

DIRECT SPEECH	REPORTED SPEECH
present simple → 'My sister is a ballet dancer.'	past simple She said (that) her sister was a ballet dancer.
present continuous → 'I'm writing to my boyfriend.'	past continuous She said (that) she was writing to her boyfriend.

Notes:

- I sometimes changes to he or she.
- My sometimes changes to her or his. Our changes to their.
- The adjectives this, that, these and those usually change to the.
e.g. 'I like these grapes.' → He/She said he/she liked the grapes.
- The pronouns this and that usually change to it.
e.g. 'I want to paint this blue.' → 'He/She said he/she wanted to paint it blue.
- The pronouns these and those usually change to them.

2 Read, then tell about everything Natasha said about her experience. Use the Reported Speech.

I'VE GOT A WHOLE NEW WAY OF LOOKING AT THE WORLD

Natasha Anderson, 19, had not planned to take a gap year this year. "I didn't get the grades I needed for the university.

I'll take my exams again next June. At first, I didn't know what to do, but after a couple of months of doing nothing and feeling bad about myself, I contacted a gap year agency and now here I am, far from home."

"I've been here for five weeks so far. I've been helping build a water system, working alongside professionals. We're based in a permanent tented camp, but for the last two weeks I've been staying in a small camp some distance from the main one. It's all very exciting. Before I came here, I had just been sitting around watching daytime TV and getting bored."

"I've learned so much while I've been here. For example, I've been learning Spanish since I arrived, and that might be very useful for me later. I've met so many interesting people. I've got to know the locals and to understand their point of view. I realised how much of what I thought was true was just the way my particular culture viewed the world. In fact, I've now got a whole new way of looking at the world. Not only that, I now feel much more confident about myself."

Future-in-the-Past(Майбутній час з точки зору минулого) is used when you look back on the past and want to remember things that were planned or believed to happen in the future.

He hoped I would give him that book that day, but I haven't finished reading it yet.

I knew she wouldn't come to see us so soon.

Mary said that she would play tennis with me.

Future-in-the-Past is also used when we want to report the statement about the future.

"I'll go to the library," she said.

(Direct Speech, Future Simple.)

She said (that) she would go to the library.

(Reported Speech, Future-in-the-Past.)

a
I am twenty-four years old and am about to finish a course in hotel administration. Earlier this year I worked for three months as a trainee in a small family-run hotel. Your vacancy is of a particular interest to me as my duties involved taking phone calls, making bookings and providing guests with a warm welcome, which I feel is important for this kind of post.

b
I would like to apply for the position of hotel receptionist, as advertised in the Hotel & Catering Reporter on May, 12.

c
I enclose a copy of my current CV for your information. Please contact me should you require any further details.

d
I look forward to hearing from you.

4 Role-play the situations (1, 2) in small groups.

Your older friend has just returned from the army. But he hasn't chosen a trade for himself yet. A special job service for young people has been opened recently in your town. They consult young people about the opportunities in getting jobs. Your friend asks you to go there and find out everything for him.

- 1 Go to the job centre and have a consultation about the opportunities for vocational training and choosing a trade. Find out if the local authorities are obliged to assist young people in finding a job.
- 2 Go back to your friend and tell him about your visit. Discuss all the opportunities together and choose a job for him.

5 Read and discuss the questions in groups.

- Do you want to live away from home?
- Do you want to live on campus?
- Are there societies which interest you?
- What is the cost of living in different areas of Ukraine?
- How quickly can you get home for weekends and holidays?

Leaving school and going on to higher education is an exciting thought. A university or college education has many attractions. A degree is still a must for many careers, and the graduates tend to earn more than the non-graduates. The university life also gives you important experience as you leave home, mix with new people, learn to stand two feet on your own and broaden your horizons. There are plenty of universities to choose from in Ukraine. Look at them and consider practical questions like these ones.

GETTING A JOB IN EUROPE

You can find information about jobs at a number of different places.

At school. During their last years at school, students get advice about further study and finding jobs. All secondary schools have a career teacher. It's his/her job to provide students with information about study and work. Career teachers will arrange visits to factories, offices, colleges, etc. They invite people from local organisations to come to the school to talk to pupils. They also help pupils to apply for jobs.

A lot of schools now organise 'work experience' for pupils in the last two compulsory years of school (aged 14-16). The students go out to work for a week. They work in all kinds of places — factories, shops, offices or hotels. Afterwards they have to write about their experience and what it has taught them. (Most pupils report that school isn't so bad after all!)

Outside school. For people who have already left school, there are number of places where they can find out about jobs. Local newspapers carry advertisements for jobs, and there is a Job Centre in every large town. Employers advertise jobs here. If you are unemployed, you can go to the Job Centre to look for a job.

More and more young people now continue their studies as long as possible. They go on from school to university or college to get higher qualifications. There are also several training schemes, where young people can learn the skills to help them get a better job.

- 1 There are lots of places where people can find information about jobs.
- 2 It's a head-teacher's responsibility to provide students with information about jobs.
- 3 People from factories, colleges, etc. help students to apply for jobs.
- 4 Students of 14-16 years old are invited to go out for 'work experience'.
- 5 There are Job Centres at many schools.
- 6 Advertisements for jobs are often published in newspapers.
- 7 Employers go to students who are in the last two compulsory years.
- 8 Young people prefer to study as long as they can.
- 9 Getting higher qualifications is not much popular nowadays.
- 10 Young people can learn how to get a better job due to some training schemes that have appeared recently.

I CAN ...

- read and understand the information about professions and jobs
- listen to and understand information about courses and universities
- talk about my plans for future
- discuss the problem of young people employment
- understand Direct and Reported Speech
- write an application letter for a job or a study course

Focus on Reading and Vocabulary

1 Work in small groups. Read and discuss the following.

- 1 Do you get on well with your parents?
- 2 Do your parents trust you?
- 3 Do you sometimes talk back to them?
- 4 Are you often grounded?
- 5 What did you do the last time you were grounded?
- 6 Do you always obey your parents?
- 7 Do you think you are a good child to your parents?
- 8 Are your parents often nervous?
- 9 Do they keep their promises?
- 10 Are your parents violent?
- 11 Do you often slam¹ the door and go to your room?
- 12 Can you rely on your parents?
- 13 Can they rely on you?
- 14 Are your parents understanding?
- 15 Do your parents always have time to listen to your problems?
- 16 Do your parents know about all your problems?
- 17 What do you like about your parents? What do you dislike?
- 18 What would you do if you were in your parents' place?
- 19 Would you behave the same way or differently?
- 20 What are the possible conflicts between children and parents?

¹to slam (the door) — грукати (дверима)

21 What do you and your parents usually argue about? Is it:

- school and marks?
- staying out late?
- pocket money?
- friends?
- clothes?
- posters on the wall?
- telephone bills?
- your untidy room?
- doing the housework?
- doing your homework?
- listening to music too loudly?
- watching TV?
- brothers and sisters?
- playing computer games?
- going to the disco?
- wearing make-up?

Read the newspaper article and match the comments (1-10) made by people with the parts (a-k) of George's story on pages 74-75.

TEEN TERROR

A father was jailed last week for restraining¹ his daughter.

George Trimble was jailed for a few hours last week for physically trying to prevent his 15-year-old daughter Susie from going to see her boyfriend. He held her by the wrist², but she managed to escape. Later, she told the police he'd assaulted her, and he was held at the station for questioning. Susie has now dropped the assault charges and the family is trying to patch things up³.

- 1 Perhaps George doesn't really see the problems his daughters have. After all, this is a serious eating disorder and he treats it lightly.
- 2 George doesn't seem to want his daughters to grow up and be adults in their own right.
- 3 George says Susie's behaviour got worse, but perhaps she was just rejecting her father's values in order to find her own. Perhaps she was starting to look for her own identity.

¹to restrain [rɪ'streɪn] — стримувати, приборкувати, вгамовувати

²a wrist [rɪst] — зап'ясток

³to patch things up — улагоджувати (сварку)

- 4 George has a clear idea of the sort of boy who is right for his daughters — white, well-off and around their age.
- 5 This could have been a ‘wake-up’ call for her father to see what he could lose if he didn’t start respecting her individuality.
- 6 He wants Susie to listen to him, but does he listen to her?
- 7 George clearly sees himself as the victim in the affair.
- 8 Perhaps George is over-ambitious for his daughters and resents the sacrifices he made. You can’t buy someone’s love.
- 9 Maybe George unquestioningly took on the values of his parents and now resents Susie’s questioning of his values.
- 10 George has worked hard all his life for his family and now feels very frustrated that his daughter isn’t turning out the way he wanted.

GEORGE’S STORY

- (a) I’m a respectable businessman and all I’d been trying to do was keep my daughter away from drugs and bad company, and I ended up in a police cell.
- (b) I’ve got two daughters, Helen and Susie. Helen’s 17 and Susie’s 15. I’ve had no trouble with Helen, apart from a bit of bulimia¹. Susie’s the
- (c) problem. She used to be a lovely girl with her dolls and toys, but a few months ago her behaviour started to deteriorate. She started dating people who were much poorer than her and staying out later at night.
- (d) It was really worrying and annoying. Her American boyfriend was much older than her, not at all suitable for her.

We had some rows² about this, and after one row

- (e) she stormed out and went missing for a whole weekend. I think she was taking drugs. So then I started physically to stop her going out. But one night she went out when we’d
- (f) gone to bed, and in the early morning the police brought her home. So I told

¹bulimia [buˈlɪmiə] — булімія, ненормально підвищений апетит

²a row [rəʊ] — гучна сварка, суперечка her, 'You see what happens?' I told her she'd only got herself to blame. After that, I hoped she would start listening to me. But she didn't.

- (g) Then last week she wanted to go out again. I had had enough. I told her, 'You're going to do as I tell you.' But she shouted she'd do what she liked. I grabbed her by the wrists, but
- (h) she pulled herself free and ran out of the house. I was sick with worry. And then the police came and arrested me for assault! I was taken to the police station like a common criminal. After a few hours, they released¹ me on bail, and I haven't been charged. But it was really unpleasant. I'm just a normal father trying to save my little girl.

My girls were lovely when they were younger.

- (i) I drove them to piano lessons and drove them back. My wife always made sure they were dressed really nicely. We gave them everything we could, the sort of things I never had when I was a child. They were my pride and joy.

- (j) I don't understand this rebellious stuff. I never spoke back to my parents. I never went out drinking. In those days, if you
- (k) didn't like something you just put up with it. I was working when I was 16, and I've spent my life building up a business for my family, so they would have a better future. And now this! I feel like my world has fallen apart.

3 Read the article and the George's story again and guess the meanings of the words from the 'Words for You'. Then check yourself consulting a dictionary.

FOR YOU

4 Work with a partner and discuss the following questions.

- 1 How do you feel about the fact that George was jailed?
- 2 If you were Susie, would you have gone to the police? Why (not)?
- 3 How would you have handled the situation if you had been in George's shoes?
- 4 Why do you think George acted the way he did? Why do you think Susie acted the way she did? Justify your answer by referring to their characters, childhood and environment.

5 Work in groups and do the task below.

Suppose you had the opportunity to talk to any of the people mentioned in the article, what questions would you ask them? Write some questions and then discuss with your mates how these people might answer them.

6 a) Brainstorm the main areas of conflict between parents and adolescents.

b) Think and say:

- To what extent do you think that such conflict is inevitable? How can it be avoided?
- What does it mean to be a good son or a good daughter?
- Do you think the ability to be a good parent comes naturally or should people be taught certain rules? What rules?

Develop Your Vocabulary

1 Brush up some personality describing adjectives.

a) Group up the adjectives into the appropriate columns.

tactful	fussy	hard-working	tactless
responsible	polite	quiet	lazy talkative	rude	nervous	mature strict	tidy	sensitive	relaxed

usually positive	usually negative	could be either critical

b) Add one of these prefixes un-, im-, ir-, in- to each of the words from the box to make opposites.

For example: critical — uncritical critical, mature, polite, responsible, sensitive, tidy

2 Refresh your knowledge of word formation.

a) Rephrase the sentences, adding the appropriate suffix to the noun in italics.

-ful -ish -less -ly -y

For example: Alec did it without care. Alec was careless.

- 1 Don't be such a fool. Stop being
- 2 The magazine comes out every week.
The magazine comes out
- 3 Look at all the dirt on your hands. Your hands are
- 4 The situation is without hope. The situation is

b) Fill in the gaps with the relevant form of the word on the right.

- | | |
|---|-----------|
| 1 Sarah is not very tolerant of people who don't think the same as she does. | tolerance |
| 2 Dave always makes a ... contribution to the class discussions. | value |
| 3 Lyn thinks she deserves special | treat |

3rd CONDITIONAL

We use the Third Conditional for the imaginary situations in the past.

Example: If it had been sunny, we should have gone sailing.

(But it wasn't sunny so we didn't go sailing.)

We can also use:

- other modals to show how possible or sure the result was.

Example: If it had been sunny, we could / might have gone sailing.

- the Perfect Continuous

Example: If I had been feeling tired, I wouldn't have been driving.

- passive forms

Example: The medicine shouldn't have been discovered if there hadn't been an accident.

	If + Past Perfect	would have	+ 3rd form (Past Participle)
Positive	If it had been sunny,	we would have	gone sailing.
Negative	If I hadn't gone skiing,	I wouldn't have	broken my leg.
Question	If you had had the money,	would you have	bought the house?

LINKS

1 Read each sentence (1-6). Write 'T' for each true sentence (a-f) or 'F' for the false one.

1 If I had had time, I would have watched It's a Wonderful Life.

a I didn't have time to watch It's a Wonderful Life.

2 I would have recorded the film if my DVD hadn't been broken.

b I recorded the film.

e James Stewart played the part of George Bailey.

6 The enterprise wouldn't have been successful if they hadn't provided such a strong marketing company.

f The enterprise isn't successful.

2 Choose the correct form of the 3rd Conditional.

- 1 If the Titanic (didn't hit / hadn't hit) an iceberg, it (wouldn't have sunk / doesn't sink).
- 2 If the Aztecs (had defeated / defeated) Cortes' soldiers, the Spanish (mightn't conquered / mightn't have conquered) Mexico.
- 3 What (happened / would have happened) if Columbus (thought / had thought) the world was flat?
- 4 If the Tsar's soldiers (hadn't shot / wouldn't shoot) demonstrating workers in 1905, there (mightn't been / mightn't have been) a revolution in Russia.
- 5 John Kennedy (couldn't be assassinated / mightn't have been assassinated) in 1963 if he (hadn't been travelling / hadn't travelling) in an open-top car.

3 Write sentences using the 3rd Conditional.

- 1 I / recognise / you / if / it / not be / dark
I'd have recognised you if it hadn't been dark.
- 2 If / my alarm / not ring / this morning / I / be / late for work

4 Complete the sentences following one of the patterns for the Conditional III (see 'Grammar Point').

- 1 I would have enjoyed the party much more if
- 2 It ... if the sea hadn't been so rough.
- 3 Would you have been able to come next Tuesday if ... ?
- 4 If you had taken my advice
- 5 If I had realised that you were really serious in what you said
- 6 If it hadn't been for the fact that his father had influence
- 7 If he had told me the truth in the first place
- 8 Would you have lent him the money if ... ?

5 Refresh your knowledge of Conditionals I, II, III and make up the sentences using the prompts below.

Example: to rain — not to go there

If it rains, I will not go there.

If it rained, I would not go there.

If it had rained, I would not have gone there.

- 1 to have money — to buy a new car
- 2 to employ her — not to have the right qualifications
- 3 to pass the exam — to study more
- 4 to win the game — to train hard
- 5 to buy the house — to be cheap
- 6 to be offered the job — to take it

6 Choose the Conditional II or Conditional III to complete each sentence. Use negatives if they are required.

- 1 I would go skiing more often if we lived (live) closer to the ski resorts.
- 2 The snow ... (clean) if I had had a shovel.
- 3 If I had a key, I ... (let) you inside.
- 4 If John ... (be) in town, he would invite you to this new restaurant.
- 5 If I ... (know) you were coming, I would have thrown a party.
- 6 If he had given her his email address, she ... (send) him the price list.
- 7 If we ... (get) lost, we would have arrived on time.
- 8 Where would you live if you ... (have) this house?

negotiation, n — This contract is the result of long and difficult negotiations between the businessmen of both companies.

b) Work in pairs. Check your answers using a dictionary. Take turns.

3 Listen about Penny Palmano, who has written the best-selling book on teenagers and say if she has a mostly positive or a mostly negative attitude to teenagers.

4 Listen again and answer the questions.

- 1 What is the main idea of the new approach to dealing with difficult teenagers that Penny Palmano offers?
- 2 How many children does Palmano have?
- 3 Has she got any problems with clearing up at home?
- 4 Do teenagers annoy their parents intentionally?
- 5 Why can't many teenagers make good decisions and control their emotions?
- 6 What does Penny believe the keys to happiness for all are?
- 7 What does Palmano advise to do if a teenager comes home a little bit later than it was agreed?
- 8 Is it important to criticise a teenager for having an untidy room? Why?

Focus on Speaking

1 Read and express your opinion on the following.

- Many people say we have a responsibility to look after the elderly people in our family or community. Why is it important to take care of them? How should we take care of elderly people?

2 Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

- 1 Can you give some examples of the generation gap from your own experience?
- 2 Can this gap be overcome? What causes it?
- 3 Can you imagine a situation, in which you and your parents exchange roles? What would be the same, and what would be different?
- 4 What is your relationship with your grandparents?
- 5 Can you compare your relationship with your parents to their relationship with their parents?

3 Discuss the following questions in groups.

- When couples have their first-born child, they become parents and face an utterly¹ new stage in their lives. What should parents do to be successful?
- What parents shouldn't do to be successful?
- In their turn teenagers are old enough to realise that adults are not saints and may make mistakes and that the so-called generation gap should not necessarily spoil their relations. What should good children do?

4 Read and comment on the following statements.

*If there is right in the soul,
There is beauty in the person.
If there is beauty in the person,
There will be harmony in the home.
If there is harmony in the home,
There will be order in the nation.
If there is order in the nation,
There will be peace in the world.*

¹utterly ['ʌtəli] — цілком, абсолютно

5 a) Read what teenagers sometimes say about the points that annoy them in their parents.

I love my dad but he has absolutely no sense of rhythm. That wouldn't matter if he didn't insist, even at his advanced age, on dancing at parties and weddings. Worse than this, he once started playing an imaginary guitar in a CD shop. They were playing a track from the latest hit parade which dad recognised. So he started jumping about like a madman, not caring I was standing right beside him. I was shocked and embarrassed. Later he told me that when he was a teenager, he'd been in a band for a few weeks.

Max

Kate

Usually my mum is very sweet and tactful, but she has moments when she totally loses her tact and becomes dictatorial. You never know when this will occur. The most recent was when I was innocently watching TV, and she suddenly stood in front of the telly, shouting, "You're not watching this stupid programme, are you? You must have something better to do with your time than that." She went on like this for several minutes. But I was calm and patient with her and after a bit she calmed down again leaving me in front of the telly watching my programme. I think I have learned to avoid conflicts. The main thing is to control yourself.

b) Imagine you are Max or Kate. What would you say to your dad (mum)? Role-play the situations in pairs.

WRITING
POINT

1 Read the letter and answer the question after it.

Dr Margaret Haster, a British psychologist who specialises in adolescence, wrote the following letter to the newspaper in response to the story of George Trimble. (See Reading on pages 81-83.)

22 Robin Hill
Sunderland
September 2011
Sunderland Daily News
Editor

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to tell you that the case of George Trimble in your edition of September 14th highlights one of the major issues that society faces today.

As to a psychologist who specialises in adolescence, it is clear to me that the problems confronting young people are increasing. More teenage girls are getting pregnant and there are more single mothers. There is also a higher incidence of teenage boys dropping out of school and more gangs on the street corners. 22 percent of boys up to age 18 are reported by a school or other authority for delinquency. Moreover, suicide rates among young men are climbing and a third of teenagers suffer depression at some point.

But what are parents to do? Should they be more liberal and risk losing authority in the child's eyes? Or should they be more authoritarian and risk alienating¹ their children so much they won't talk about their fears and concerns? Should they try to stop them having sex or encourage safe sex? It is no easy thing to find a balance between discipline and tolerance. No one seems to know what the rules are any more.

However, unless we start to address these questions as a society, and that means government, schools and parents, things will only get worse.

Yours faithfully,
Dr Margaret Haster

- Which of the statements below (A-C) best summarises her point of view?
 - a Parents should be more strict with their children.
 - b Parents should be less strict with their children.
 - c We don't know whether parents should be more strict or less strict with their children.

2 In groups, discuss the following questions.

- What's your view on 'the balance between discipline and tolerance' that Dr Haster mentions? Where would you draw the line?

¹to alienate ['eɪliəneɪt] — відштовхувати

3 a) Read the situation and make notes which will help you to write the letter. Work in pairs.

A local newspaper has recently published a series of articles about young people. In most of the articles, young people are described as irresponsible, rude and looking only for cheap entertainment. These opinions are mainly based on a few recent incidents in the local discotheque.

You're going to write a letter to the editor expressing your disapproval not only with the editorial policy of treating the topic, but also with the perception¹ of young people.

4 Look back at Dr Haster's letter and answer the questions in pairs.

- 1 The letter has four paragraphs. What is the main idea or purpose of each one?
- 2 Find examples of the use of facts to support opinions. Why does the writer use them?
- 3 Find uses of transitional phrases. Why are they used?
- 4 Find examples of rhetorical questions, i.e. questions that the writer does not expect an answer to. Why does Dr Haster use them?

5 Margaret Haster's letter appeared in the 'Letters to the Editor' column of a newspaper. Write an answer to Margaret Haster that could be put in the column. Follow the instructions below.

First, identify the points in the letter that you need to answer (the questions in the 3rd paragraph).

Second, write down some ideas (you can use your ideas from the discussion above and the one on the 'Teen Terror' article at the beginning of this unit).

Next, organise your ideas into paragraphs, making sure you have support for your opinions. Then, write your letter using paragraphs (don't forget introduction), but don't overuse them.

Finally, check your work for mistakes.

But your parents always organise family activities that fill up the whole weekend, and say you're too young to go out on your own. What would you do and say to your parents?
- 2 Susan is 16. Every year she, her parents and her younger brother who is 14 go on a family holiday to their house by the lake. A week before the holiday Susan's boyfriend Andrew who is 18 asks her to join him and a group of friends on a camping trip. She wants to go but knows that it will not be easy to persuade her father. Also, she does not want to upset or disappoint her parents. She decides to speak to her father and mother after dinner.

7 In groups, read and make notes on your answers to the questions below and organise them into sections. Use your notes to give your speech. (See tips on presentation on page 35 and the letter on pages 85, 86).

WHAT ABOUT UKRAINE?

Dr Margaret Haster is carrying out research into how the generation gap is perceived in different cultures in Europe. She will be visiting schools in Ukraine to hear the viewpoints of Ukrainian children.

She has sent you the following questions that she would like to discuss with you.

- What do parents expect from their children?
- What do children expect from their parents?
- Where do you most learn your social survival skills from: family, school or peers?
- To what extent is there a generation gap? How do you feel about it?

8 Do the individual project 'Three Generations' following the items below.

- 1 Interview your grandmother or grandfather, or the grandparents of one of your friends. Think carefully what questions you are going to ask them. (Ask them about their childhood and their relationship with their own parents and grandparents.)
- 2 Ask your parents the same questions.
- 3 Answer the same questions yourself.
- 4 Compare the answers and discuss the generation gap. (What is the same, what is different.)
- 5 You can decide on the questions, each of you within the group is going to ask, so that you have a greater range of answers to compare. Try to reach some kind of conclusion on the generation gap question.
- 6 Share your conclusions in class.

2 Two friends are talking about their old university days.
Write the verbs in the correct forms.

- I ... (go) to university a year earlier if I'd passed my exams.
- You ... (pass) your exams if you'd worked a bit harder.
- "What ... (you / study) if you hadn't studied history?"
"I don't know. I ... (study) politics."
- If I ... (know) the course was going to be so dull, I would have gone somewhere else.
- If you ... (not / recommend) that university to me, I ... (try) to get a place at Cambridge university.
- If you ... (go) somewhere else, you ... (not / meet) your wife!

Reading

4 Read the article and refer the headings (a-e) to the appropriate paragraphs (1-5).

RELATIONSHIP WITH PARENTS

- 1 Do your parents love you? Whether you believe they do or not, I have no intention of trying to persuade you one way or the other. Instead, I will tell you just when you find this out for yourselves. Actually not until you become parents yourselves. Then you will know.
- 2 Mark Twain, the great American writer, used to say when he was fourteen his father was so ignorant he could hardly stand to have him around. But when he was twenty-one he was astonished at how much his father had learned in those seven years.

- a All we need is tolerance.
- b Parents are more tolerant nowadays.
- c Spend more time practising to produce sweet harmony.
- d You'll know about parents' love when you become a parent yourself.
- e Self-development is a great thing!

Check Your English

- 3 Today, your parents may seem to you to be people who keep on saying: "Now when I was young..." But, believe me, that is how their parents seemed to be when they were young. Today parents are, in my opinion, more tolerant of the behaviour of their sons and daughters than ever before. I wonder, however, whether you are tolerant.
- 4 I heard recently of a father who was found sitting on the front steps of his house at three in the morning by a policeman. "What are you doing here?", asked the policeman. "Oh," said the man, "I've lost my key so I'm waiting for my children to come home and let me in." But few parents stay out "partying" until the early hours of the morning. I wonder how you would feel if your parents started doing this and you had to wait up until they came in? Even if you didn't wait up for them! Would you not be asking such questions as "Where have you been? What have you been doing?" How would you react to their answers? What we all need, the young people and those who are older, is tolerance.
- 5 There are, you all know, black and white keys on a piano. Play them together thoughtlessly, without any rules, and you get discord. But if you understand music and spend some more time practising, you can, with the same black and white keys, produce sweet harmony. Why not try? You start. You'll be surprised at how quickly your people will respond.

(after Gordon Williams)

I CAN ...

- read about and understand family relationship
- listen to and understand information about the period of adolescence
- talk about generation gap and teenagers' behaviour

A Restaurants in the City Centre

B A Wide Choice of Drinks

C Fast Food System Is at Your Service

D Ukrainian Mineral Waters and Juices

E Enjoy the Ukrainian Cuisine

F How Much to Pay?

1 Restaurant business has been developing rapidly in Kyiv. As a rule, restaurants open at 11:00 and work until midnight; actually, nowadays most of them close even later — “when the last customer is gone”. In Kyiv restaurants experienced masters of cuisine will offer you a wide choice of dishes to suit any taste. If you want to have supper at a certain restaurant, instead of eating elsewhere, it is best for you to order a table in advance.

2 At your service there is also a network of Ukrainian restaurants of fast food which offer a choice of dishes from traditional Ukrainian cuisine: varenyky (dumplings filled with cabbage, potatoes, mushrooms, etc.), salads, beer and juices. You can also have a cheap and tasty dinner at a Domashnia Kuhnia (‘domestic cuisine’) quality food network.

3 The city centre is particularly abundant in restaurants, cafes and bars. Each restaurant is noted for an original interior and a distinctive cuisine. We do hope that in our list of restaurants you will find the right one for you: American, Italian, German, French, Japanese, etc.

4 Ukrainian food restaurants are presented in a separate section at the top of the list. Ukrainian cuisine is rich in traditions. At restaurants specialising in Ukrainian food you will have a chance to taste the famous Ukrainian Borshch — a savory red-coloured soup which has such ingredients as minced beet, carrots, potatoes and other vegetables. Borshch is always garnished with sour cream. As a rule, borsch is eaten with pampushky, small rolls rubbed with garlic. Kulich is a dish of millet¹ cooked in meat soup; lard, onion and garlic are added to the dish before it can be served. Pechenia is stewed pork and potatoes (to which mushrooms or vegetables can be added). This dish is served in a clay pot. Carp in Sour Cream is a fried riverine² fish (carp) with a sour cream sauce. Coming to the sweets we would recommend Cherry varenyky, an old Ukrainian dish. They are delicious, especially when served with cream.

- 5 In addition to dishes we also recommend you to taste Ukrainian-made juices such as Halychyna, Sandora or Sadochok. Not inferior to Fanta or Sprite are Ukrainian nonalcoholic drinks Rosynka-Ginseng, Zhyvchyk-Apple or Zhyvchyk-Lemon. Good at refreshing are mineral waters Obolon, or Sofia Kyivska. There is a wide choice of medicinal mineral waters as well: Myrhorodska, Morshynska, Truskavetska, Poliana Kvasova, etc.

REPORTED SPEECH

When we report what someone has said, we can:

1 repeat their exact words:

Doctor described Mr G's condition as a 'non-life closer to death'.

2 report what they said:

*Alison Clarke said that the Government should intervene immediately.

3 report the idea of what they said using a reporting verb:

Brutus decides to explain why Julius Caesar had to be killed.

Don Quixote was still recommended ...

He was threatened with death and torture.

LINKS

- If you want to report a statement, you use a 'that-clause':

Alison Clarke said that the Government should intervene immediately.

Note: 'that' can be omitted.

- If you want to report a question, you use an 'If-clause' or a 'Wh-clause':

We asked three people what they thought.

We asked them if they thought they had made the right decision.

Note: there is no inversion.

- If you want to report an order, a request or a piece of advice, you use a 'to-clause':

She told him to go away. He asked her to come in.

1 Choose the correct verb form.

- 1 Jane told me that she (had been / was) there the day before.
- 2 He asked me if I (would / will go) to the concert with him.
- 3 My family wanted to know when (had I seen / I had seen) him.
- 4 He says that he always (drinks / has drunk) two cups of coffee in the morning.
- 5 My sister said that she (ate / eats) her lunch at noon.

2 Rewrite the sentences in reported speech.

- 1 "Take these bags, please!" she asked me.
She asked me to take those bags.
- 2 "When did you paint this room, yesterday or last week?" my parents inquired.
- 3 "Were you sitting in a pub when the accident happened?" she asked.
- 4 "We have never tried any drugs," they claim.
- 5 "They are going to assess our written exams tomorrow," said a student.

3 Turn the sentences into direct speech.

- 1 My class mistress wanted to know what I had done during the last lesson.
"What have you done during the lesson?" my class mistress asked.
- 2 Tom says that they didn't call him so he hasn't done it.
- 3 She told me that her grandpa took a spoon of honey every single morning.
- 4 She reported that they were planning a trip to Paris the following week.
- 5 She wondered if those were his best paintings.

4 a) Read the text and make up a dialogue by transforming the sentences into direct speech. Dramatise the dialogue in pairs.

After having entered a cafe a customer asked a waiter if he might sit in a certain place. The waiter offered him to sit in any place he preferred including the one he asked about. The customer asked if he could see the menu. The waiter gave him the menu and asked if the customer would make an order immediately. The customer agreed and explained that he was short of time. He pointed out at some of the dishes on the menu saying he would like to have them. For not to make a mistake the waiter repeated the dishes again and asked the customer to confirm his order.

b) Report the dialogues.

Paula: Here we are. Dinner's ready. Come to the table, everybody.

Donna: Thank you, Paula. Everything looks wonderful, and it smells delicious, too.

Paula: I'll put the salad in the middle of the table. Shall I serve you?

Donna: No, that's all right. We can help ourselves. Sit down and relax.

Paula: Peter, would you pour some juice, please? Ken, help yourself to vegetables, too.

B

Waiter: Welcome to the restaurant, folks. What'll it be?

Harry: What do you recommend?

Waiter: Well, the crab salad's always a big hit.

Harry: Susan, would you like the crab salad?

Susan: I'd love the crab salad.

Harry: Michelle, would you like to try the crab salad, too?

Michelle: OK.

Harry: We'll have three crab salads and a bottle of lemonade.

- 1 Do you always have dinner at home or do you sometimes eat out?
- 2 What do you usually order for the main course (dessert)? What do you usually drink?
- 3 Are national dishes served in restaurants?
- 4 What is the difference between a regular and a self-service restaurant? Which is generally less expensive?
- 5 Why are many self-service cafes opened throughout the country nowadays?

2 Read and dramatise the conversation in a group of three.

Waiter: We have a few specials on the menu this evening. First there's a lovely pepper steak served with beans and potatoes. And we have a delicious shrimp dish in garlic sauce served over rice.

Eva: Which one would you recommend?

Waiter: I think the steak is the best thing on the menu.

Eva: OK, I'll have that then.

Waiter: How would you like your steak?

Eva: Medium rare.

Waiter: Anything to drink?

Eva: What kind of juice have you got?

Waiter: Orange, apple and pineapple.

Eva: A glass of apple juice, please.

Waiter: Sure.

Eva: Actually, I'd rather have carrots and beans with my steak.

b) Work in pairs. Find out which of the above dishes your partner would or wouldn't like to try and why.

2 Use the verbs in brackets to report the following statements.

- 1 Robert: I'll tell the teacher! (threaten)
- 2 James (to Cheryl): You should see a doctor. (advise)
- 3 Charles (to Ben): No, I won't lend you my Walkman. (refuse)
- 4 Michael: I'm sorry I broke the window. (apologise)
- 5 Colin: Yes, I did go out with Jennifer on Saturday. (admit)
- 6 Mark (to Eliza): You've taken my pen! (accuse)

3 Work in groups.

a) Read the information and discuss the problem.

"One man's meat is another man's poison," one English proverb says. There is a wide range of nutritious foods in the world. However, eating habits differ from country to country. In some societies certain foods are taboo. An eccentric millionaire once invited guests from several countries to a banquet and offered them the menu below. All the foods are popular in some parts of the world, but are not eaten in others.

b) Look at this menu and answer the questions below.

STARTERS

- Snail
- Frogs' legs
- Pigs' feet
- Shellfish
- Caviar
- 100-year-old eggs
- Tripe (cow's stomach)

4 Role-play the situation in groups.

One of you is a restaurant waiter. The waiter greets the customers, presents the menu and takes their orders. The other students are the restaurant customers.

5 Divide into two groups and hold a debate.

Fast Food Restaurants have become very popular. But not everyone thinks they are a good idea. Here are some arguments in favour and against fast food restaurants. Which views do you support? Can you think of any more 'for' and 'against'?

FOR

- The service is very quick.
- The restaurants are usually very clean.
- The atmosphere is informal.
- Fast food restaurants are the same everywhere, so you know exactly what you want.

AGAINST

- The food contains a lot of fat and is unhealthy.
- The food is not cheap, especially for young people.
- The restaurants create much litter.
- The material which is often used for fast food cartons takes centuries to decay and contains dangerous elements.

6 Do the group project. Prepare information about restaurants in your town or area. Organise the information in a table.

1 Complete each sentence choosing a correct word 'food', 'dish' or 'meal' in a correct form.

- 1 I'm quite surprised but I'm really enjoying English
- 2 Moussaka is one of the most delicious ... you can eat in this country.
- 3 The cost of your holidays includes two ... a day: breakfast and dinner.
- 4 When I visit you I will cook you a ... that is from Ukraine.

BENIHANA

Average cost	£30 per head
Set lunch from	£8.50
Set dinner from	£14
House wine (bottle)	£12

Freshly cooked Japanese food and the theatrical performances by the chefs make this establishment very entertaining.

Watch the way your meat, fish and vegetables are chopped, thrown around and chargrilled by the chefs. Take your kids to see this spectacle. Adults will have fun, too.

The menu is made up of mainly teppaniaki-style complete meals. Diners sit around a hotplate (hibachi) table for eight. Each table's chef brings in the ingredients and theatrically prepares the food. He then serves it, freshly cooked and steaming hot.

Prices aren't cheap, but such as the tuna fillet steak, the Benihana Regal, which includes king prawns and hibachi steak with mushrooms, offer good value for money.

The clientele consists mainly of families and noisy parties. On Sunday lunchtimes under-tens get their own menu which includes a selection from chicken, steak and pasta meals.

1) a) Read the poem and discuss the questions after it in pairs.

BARE NECESSITIES

There is little I need to survive:
 Some air, some fire, some water, too,
 Four walls, a roof, a kitchen and a loo,
 Some friends, so I don't feel alone,
 And my mobile phone.
 Some clothes, especially my jeans,
 Bacon and tins of Heinz baked beans,
 Mars, Snickers and Toblerone,
 And my mobile phone.
 My fridge, my freezer and my TV,
 And digital camera and DVD,
 And the cool gear that I've outgrown,
 And my mobile phone.
 And Adidas, Nike and satellite dish,
 A friend, and love, and meat, and fish,
 And make-up, and perfume, and Cars, that go fast,
 And hope that the future will be better than the past,
 And my Beatles CDs and my Pearl Jam Live.
 But if it was necessary,

to survive
 I'd give up everything I own
 But my mobile phone!

Build Up Your Grammar

Adverb Clauses with Time

Adverb clauses can be joined by time conjunctions (сполучниками часу) like 'when', 'as soon as', 'until', 'after', 'before', 'while' etc. A time conjunction gives us information about when two events happen, relative to each other.

'When' is a conjunction that means 'at that moment, at that time'.

When I arrive, I will phone you.

I wasn't watching TV when you called me.

'Until' and 'till' are conjunctions that express 'up to a time in the past or future'. 'Till' is usually only used in spoken English.

We waited until he finished his homework.

I'll wait till you finish.

'Not until / till' can mean the same as 'not before'.

We won't be seeing each other until / before Christmas holidays begin.

Warning! We can't use until or till to mean 'in advance of'.

In this case we use 'before':

Please return your registration form before you leave the room.

NOTE

Note. Punctuation. When an adverb clause begins the sentence, use a comma to separate the two clauses.

When he arrived into town, he gave me a call.

When the adverb clause finishes the sentence, there is no need for a comma. He gave me a call when he arrived into town.

1 Notice the different tenses used in relationship to the clause beginning with 'when.'

- He was talking on the phone when I arrived.
- When she called, he had already eaten lunch.
- I washed the dishes when my daughter fell asleep.
- We'll go to lunch when you come to visit.

3 a) Ask and answer the following questions in pairs.

- Can you download your favourite songs and films free of charge due to the Internet?
- Is the Internet attractive to you? Why?

b) Listen to the attractions of the Internet, then agree or disagree with the statements.

4 In groups discuss the following information.

WHAT ARE THE DANGERS OF THE INTERNET?

Instead of going out, these days, teenagers mostly make friends online, since they spend hours on the Internet. But, are these long-lasting and reliable friendships? Are computers becoming their best friends since they spend hours playing computer games? Does so much available information make teens more educated or does it reduce their ability to think for themselves? By sharing their typical teenage problems online, teen bloggers, who write more than half the blogs in the world, often reveal personal information, which puts them in danger from stalkers. It is even less safe on Facebook and MySpace, where people post their personal details and photos for everyone to see. Unlike television programmes, Internet content is not limited by any legal restrictions, so even young children can be exposed to harmful content, such as pornography.

- inflatable dartboard
- silent alarm clock
- double-sided playing cards
- ejector seats for helicopters

4 a) Read what people say about how they use the internet.

Alison

It's difficult to imagine living without it. I use it a lot for project work and exams. Some of my mates say it's absolutely no help at all. I really don't understand what they're talking about.

I don't know what people used to do before. It's a great way of chatting with people you know. It allows you to find out what they are doing. It's certainly more interesting than homework.

Bill

Carl

To be honest, I never watch the news, so I use the net to find out what's going on in the world. In particular, I like to read the home, sport and entertainment news.

You can get everything you want at the click of a mouse. Who needs the video store or DVD shop when you can get almost anything online? I must admit, I'd like a job connected with the internet.

Diana

Emma

Things are very different now. I use it all the time at my place of employment. I particularly use it for research. My boss expects everything to be perfect. I also use it to e-mail colleagues and clients.

Sometimes I am worried that I might be addicted. I spend hours surfing but it's a waste of time really. I never find out what's happening and I'm not even sure that I enjoy it.

Fiona

b) For questions 1-6, choose from the people above. Give their names.

Which person says the Internet

- 1 doesn't help them at all?
- 2 is useful when studying?

Focus on Writing

Articles are pieces of writing published in magazines, newspapers, newsletters, leaflets and brochures. They can cover a wide range of topics and their aim is to give information or express opinions.

According to their purpose articles can be classified as discursive (giving an opinion or making suggestions), descriptive (giving information about people, places and events), narrative, etc. They can be written in either a formal or informal style depending on the audience and the topic presented.

WRITING
POINT

- 1 Take a few copies of various English magazines and newspapers. Look through them and choose three or four with appealing or provoking headlines. Skim through the articles and answer the following questions.

- What are the articles about?
- What is their purpose?
- In your opinion, are they good articles? Why?

- 2 Read about what a gadget is and answer the question.

According to the dictionary, a gadget is a device having a unique purpose and function. Most people would find it extremely difficult to live without smart phones, camcorders, laptops, DVDs or television. Nobody wants to go back to the days when there was no television, no dishwashers and certainly no cell phones.

- Have these modern gadgets changed our world and made it a better place or have they turned us into slaves?

3 Follow the instructions and write an article (150-200 words) about young people and technology to your school magazine.

You should address the following issues:

- Which three gadgets do most students find to be “cool”?
- What are the good and the bad sides of using technology in students’ daily lives?
- How can technology change students’ lives in the future?

CHECKLIST

Have you included all the required information? Is the layout appropriate? Re-read the article and check for mistakes (vocabulary, grammar, spelling, punctuation). Count the number of words.

4 Write an article (220-240 words) on one of the topics below.

- My Mobile Phone — Love It or Hate It?
- The Internet — Infinite Possibilities
- People and Machines — How I See the Future

Use Your Skills

1 Put the verbs in brackets into the correct tense forms.

DIGITAL CAMERAS WORKING AS COMPUTERS

A lot of us have already noticed the existence of digital cameras. These are cameras that have an electronic image sensor (sensitive to light - something like a miniature scanner) instead of film. The picture created on this sensor is "scanned" after pressing the release button and saved into the camera's memory. Then all you have to do is to upload it into a computer and print it - and here comes a photo.

The advantage of such photographing is that you can go on clicking and taking pictures as long as the camera's memory allows you to. Then you empty the memory into a computer and you can continue shooting. Before you actually print your pictures you can choose those you like best and erase the rest.

That is surely grand! There were people, however, who wanted more. And as digital cameras are in fact little computers that consist of similar components to an "ordinary" PC, it was not difficult. Clever tech-heads soon turned a digital camera into a mini-computer on which you could even play computer games. You only have to look for the right programs on the Internet, load them into your digital camera and start up the camera in the necessary mode.

It is surprising, but it works on most digital cameras. You can play classic games like DOOM (and a thousand other games found on the Net) on them. This, most of all, must have startled the camera manufacturers and some of them realized that they must keep up with this fast-developing world. And so, on the current market one can find cameras on which you can play music, cameras with voicemail, etc...

- 1 Which of the following parts do digital cameras have?
A scanner
B sensor
C film
- 2 In what order is the picture produced?
A "scanning", pressing the button, saving into memory, printing
B "scanning", pressing the button, uploading into the computer, saving into memory
C pressing the button, "scanning", saving into memory, printing
- 3 Which of these sentences is true according to the second paragraph?

- A You have to print all your pictures before you can take some more.
- B You can extend the memory if you carry on clicking.
- C You can renew the memory by transferring the pictures into your PC.
- 4 You can play computer games on a modern digital camera if you
- A connect it to a mini-computer.
- B find a suitable program.
- C buy similar PC components.
- 5 Camera manufacturers have decided to
- A follow the current trends.
- B play many different games.
- C use cameras with voicemail.

NATURAL WONDERS OF UKRAINE

Herbs of buffalo, wildebeest and zebras are roaming in the steppes of Kherson Region between Odessa and Crimea. Hey, what zebras? This is not Africa! Well, indeed – but it is really inside the 2300 hectare Askania Nova Reserve – the brainchild of a 19th century Odesa German who acted on his slightly mad idea of importing animals from different continents to this unique natural steppe.

In addition to the above-mentioned species, the reserve boasts Przewalski horses from Mongolia, camels, Central Asian saiga antelopes and all types of birds, from pink flamingos to rare steppe eagles. But perhaps the main attraction here is the virgin steppe – flat as a skating rink. Apart from its zoo and gardens, the reserve is closed to visitors for most of summer because of steppe fire danger. So late spring and early autumn are the best times to take a safari in a horse-drawn cart.

Another large chunk of virgin steppe that you admire is actually out in the Black sea. The isle of Dzharylhach is separated from the mainland by a narrow strait. It is also teeming with all kinds of wildlife – though, admittedly not African, which makes it all the more authentic. Dzharylhach and its bay is part of the Dzharylhach National Nature Park. Its area of 56 square km and length of 42 km make it the Black Sea's biggest island. It has clean sandy beaches and mineral springs. In the middle of the island there is a fresh water spring, and more than four hundred small salty lakes are scattered all over its territory. The unique flora and fauna of Dzharylhach have been well preserved. It is a habitat for wild boars, deer, mouflon, as well as numerous seagulls and cormorant, hunting crabs, raps whelk and shrimp.

The Shatskiy National Nature Park lies 160 km northwest of Lutsk in the corner between Belarus and Poland, and has some 200 lakes, rivers and streams. Shatsky National Natural Park was established in 1983 and aimed to preserve, reconstitute and to use effectively Volyn Polissia natural complexes and objects of special environmental, recreational, educational and aesthetic value.

The park is located on the territory of Shatsk Region in northwest part of Volyn Oblast. The general area of the park is 490 square kilometres. Two ecological paths, Svitiazianka and Lisova Pisnia, are working in the Shatsk NNP. Shatsk lake group is one of the biggest in Europe. On its territory there are more than thirty lakes of varying sizes. Their total area is almost 70 square kilometers. They constitute one of the biggest European groupings of lakes. Among them is Svitiaz, the deepest lake in Ukraine.

Forests occupy 52.5% of general park area. According to the Ramsar Water and Moor Protection agreement, the Shatsk lakes' lands, which are situated between the Prypiat and the western Bug, are considered to be one of the most important areas in Ukraine. In this territory, migrating birds can find places for their reproduction as well as food and rest on their way from the north to warmer countries.

The national park together with the local administration, manage the main nature protection tasks. Due to these achievements, the park was included in the World Network of Biosphere Reserves (as West Polesie Transboundary Biosphere Reserve) within the frameworks of the UNESCO “Man and the Biosphere Programme” on April 30, 2002. By this act, the Shats’k lakes were referred to as some of the most precious complexes of the Earth. In Ukraine, Svitiaz Lake is considered to be one of the Seven Natural Wonders of Ukraine.

In the Shatsk Lakes territory, 1180 species of plants belonging to 124 families are found. Pine and blueberry forests dominate the territory of the park. Alder and birch forests grow in the lowlands.

Fauna is represented by typical woodlands species: elk, wild boar, roe deer, rabbits, squirrels. 332 vertebrate species have been noted in the park: 55 mammals, 241 birds, 7 amphibians, and 29 fish, which represent 11 families.

Danube Delta Biosphere Reserve, Europe’s largest wetland, and the 4th part of it is located in Ukraine’s far southwest where the Danube dumps water and silt into the Black Sea. Few make the effort to reach this far-flung wedge of fertile territory, but those who do are rewarded with astoundingly beautiful scenery, colourful birdlife, and serene evenings in drowsy Vylcovo, fancifully nicknamed the ‘Ukrainian Venice’ thanks to its network of canals.

Carpathian Biosphere Reserve was declared a Unesco Biosphere reserve in 1992. This protected area is made up of six separate locations, four of which can be found around Rakhiv. Some 90% of the reserve is made up of virgin forest, home to rare flora and fauna. The Museum of Forest Ecology stands on the hill behind the Carpathian Biosphere Reserve headquarters building. The exhibition is very informative, rich and colourful.

Carpathian National Natural Park is the largest national park, which was founded in 1980. It covers 503 sq km of wooded mountains and hills, but only about a quarter of the area is completely protected.

Parts of it shelter small numbers of animals and alpine meadows are carpeted with species of flora. A special gift of nature is that the National Park – is a source of mineral water of different types, that's why many objects in it are closely related to recreational and medicinal activities here.

DEFINING RELATIVE CLAUSE

(Обмежувальне означальне речення)

We use defining relative clauses to define a noun by giving essential information about it. The clause tells us exactly which person, thing, time or place the speaker or writer means.

Herbs of buffalo and zebras which roam in the steppes of Kherson Region attract a lot of visitors.

With defining relative clauses, we can use 'that' instead of 'who' and 'which'.

Lily is the woman who/that visited our national nature park in Polissya region.

Another large chunk of steppe which/that you can find in Ukraine is actually out in the Black Sea.

NON-DEFINING RELATIVE CLAUSE

(Описове означальне речення)

We use non-defining relative clauses to give additional, non-essential information. They provide more facts about a person, thing, time or place that is already identified. Commas are used before and after the relative clause.

Carpathian National Natural Park, which was founded in 1980, is the largest national park in Ukraine.

We can't use 'that' in non-defining relative clauses.

Michael, who had never been to Ukraine before, was impressed by the beauty of our natural wonders.

Askania Nova Reserve, which was established in 1898, is the member of the World Network of Biosphere Reserves of UNESCO.

- 3 Cars burn ...
- 4 Some gases react with ...
- 5 Acid rain can take the form of ...
- 6 Governments need to ...
- 7 It's better to use electric appliances only ...

3 Choose one of the problems below and discuss it in pairs.

Explain:

- 1 why you find this problem urgent
- 2 what possible attitudes to this problem can exist
- 3 if there is anything possible to do to change the situation for better
- 4 what in particular you think can be done
 - shortage of fresh water
 - waste dumping
 - air, water and soil pollution
 - radioactive pollution
 - global warming
 - climatic change
 - burying nuclear wastes
 - ozone layer destruction and the increase of ultraviolet light
 - forest destruction and deforestation
 - endangered plants and animals
 - excessive exploitation of environmental resources
 - extinction of species
 - disruption of ecological balances
 - overspending of energy resources
 - forest fires
 - land erosion and flooding

4 Read and speak on the reasons of the greenhouse effect.

Now scientists are more or less sure about the greenhouse effect, which makes the Earth warmer by trapping energy in the atmosphere because certain gases (carbon dioxide¹, methane and some others) prevent heat from escaping into space. Look at the picture and say how people increase the amount of such gases in the atmosphere. Add some more examples to illustrate your answer.

Focus on Speaking

1 a) Work in pairs. Analyse the list of the environmental problems and speak what you've already known about them.

- water problems
- destruction of rainforests
- rising sea levels
- industrial pollution
- climate change
- endangered species / threats to wildlife

Male: Let's plant a tree in the back garden. It will be great for wildlife and it will give us some shade in the summer.

Female: Oh, I don't know. Won't it be expensive, and demand a lot of hard work?

Male: Not really. I'll do all the digging. It'll look great when it's done, trust me. You're always talking about the ways of helping the environment. Well, this is a really good way to start.

Female: Oh, OK, then. What kind of tree shall we get?

Male: What are you going to do about your car? It broke down again yesterday, didn't it?

Female: Yes. I'm not sure what to do. I could sell it and buy a bike. Or I could try and fix it one more time.

Male: You know it will only break down again. It always does!

Female: You're right. I'll sell it. That way I'll get fit and help the environment at the same time!

Male: I went to the bottle bank today, and guess what? It was completely full!

Female: Oh that's a shame. Did you have to bring all the glass home again?

Male: Yes. There was a sign saying not to leave anything on the ground. I really don't understand — why they can't empty it more often. What's the point of having a bottle bank if you can't put any bottles into it?

Female: You're right. Maybe you should write a letter.

Female: I think nuclear power stations are the best way to make energy because they don't make any pollution.

Male: That's not true. Just think about the waste they produce. Some of it is dangerous for thousands of years.

Female: There are safe ways to store it now — they can bury it deep under the ground.

Male: Well, I don't think that's safe — I would like to see more electricity being made from wind and the sun.

Male: Did you get that book about the environment I asked you to buy for me?

Female: Oh, sorry. I completely forgot. What's it called?

Male: How to Save the Planet. It costs £8.99 and you can get it from Wetherby's bookshop.

Female: OK. I'll get it for you tomorrow when I go to town.

b) Choose and dramatise any conversation in pairs.

3 Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

- 1 Why do people at the beginning of the new millennium spend so much time and effort drawing public attention to the problem of ecology?
- 2 What ecological problems that the humanity faces nowadays in your opinion are the most urgent?
- 3 Why are scientists concerned so much about the greenhouse effect and the process of global warming?
- 4 Do you think global warming is caused by human activities? Which ones?
- 5 Can you say that the climate in the place where you live is changing? How? Do you find these changes for better or for worse? Can you give the examples of climate changes in other places of the planet?
- 6 Do you think humankind can solve the world's ecological problems? If so, in what way?

4 Discuss the questions in groups.

- 1 Which of these environmental problems do you think are the most serious in Ukraine? Why?
- 2 How do you think they will affect our country in the future?

Opinion Essay

It is a kind of an essay in which you express your personal opinion on a particular topic. You must state your opinion clearly and support it with relevant information and examples. You should also present the opposing arguments supported by reasons.

Subsequently you should indicate why, in your opinion, they are rather unconvincing. The opposing viewpoint is written in a separate paragraph.

WRITING
POINT

The structure of an opinion essay is as follows:

INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH

Paragraph 1

introducing the topic and clearly stating your opinion

BODY PARAGRAPHS

Paragraph 2

1st viewpoint with justifications

Paragraph 3*

2nd viewpoint with justifications

Paragraph 4*

opposing viewpoint with justifications

CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH

Paragraph 5

summarising or restating your opinion

2 a) Work in pairs. Read the statement, agree or disagree with it.

Explain your viewpoint.

Briefly note down the main reasons for your opinion.

Our children will live in a worse environment than we do.

*The number of body paragraphs depends on the number of viewpoints you want to present.

b) Complete the plan for the essay by writing down your ideas.

Paragraph 1: The present situation and your opinion:

Paragraph 2: First reason for your opinion:

Paragraph 3: Second and third reasons for your opinion:

Paragraph 4: Action we can take; consequences if we don't take it:

c) In pairs, make a list of words connected with the environment that you could use when writing the essay.

3 a) Read the sample essay without paying attention to the gaps and compare the plan for this essay with the plan you made in task 2b.

Environmentalists have been warning us for many years about the effects of human activity on the environment. (1) Despite being aware of the dangers, we continue to harm it, and for (2) ... I believe that our children will live in a worse world than we do.

I think there are two aspects of human activity, which are especially dangerous. (3) ... is atmospheric pollution, which is caused by exhaust fumes and industry. This will lead to changes in the climate and make sea levels rise. As a (4) ..., our children will live in a warmer world and people living near the coast may have to leave their homes.

(5) ... is the destruction of our natural environment such as rainforests and countryside. (6) ..., we are damaging the habitats of many animals and plants that live there and these will become extinct.

(7) ..., urgent action is needed to protect the environment by reducing pollution and creating nature reserves. (8) ..., the world our children live in will be much less pleasant than ours.

b) Add useful vocabulary from the essay to the list you have made in task 2c.

c) Complete the sample essay with the words or phrases from the box.

consequently, despite, this reason, in my opinion, result, the first, the second aspect, unless we do so

4 Read the thesis statement and write a plan of a possible essay.

Advances in technology have solved many problems. However, they have also created the new ones. Discuss some of these new problems and give your opinion on how they should be dealt with.

5 a) Read the following writing task and follow the steps mentioned in task 2 (a-c).

You have had a class discussion on things you can do to protect the environment. Your teacher has asked you to write an essay giving your opinion on the following statement:

The environment we live in will change dramatically in the next 50 years.

b) Write the essay following your plan. Use some of the transitional words and phrases from the box below.

3 Read and role-play the situation.

Some years ago in a number of countries there was a campaign of protest against McDonald's restaurants, which used beef produced in Argentina, where the cattle for this beef was raised on the land cleared from rain forests. Imagine that you've joined the campaign and are picketing one of such restaurants. What will you say to people, who are going to visit McDonald's, trying to stop them from doing it?

4 In groups, read and discuss the problem.

FEEDING THE WORLD

The environment is about plants and animals but it's about humans, too. They need to work and earn money, and they also need to eat. Many people do not have enough food. So scientists and governments are always looking for new ways to feed them. The problem is that many of these new discoveries and ideas bring new problems!

For example, are GM crops a solution or problem?

Supermarkets want to sell cheap food, fruit and vegetables that look big and bright and 'perfect'. To grow these, some farmers use more and more chemicals on their crops. When you eat an apple, do you know what chemicals are on the skin? What is the effect of these on our health?

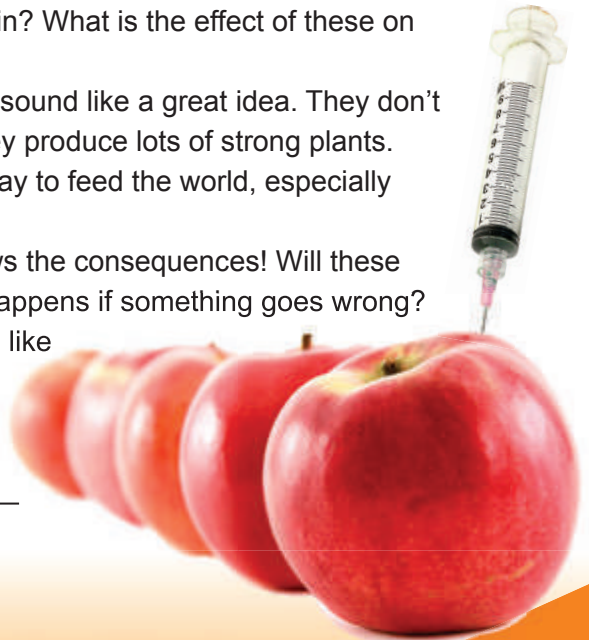

GM (Genetically-modified) crops sound like a great idea. They don't get diseases like normal crops. They produce lots of strong plants. They are cheap. Isn't this a great way to feed the world, especially poor countries?

The problem is that nobody knows the consequences! Will these crops affect human health? What happens if something goes wrong? Can GM crops encourage diseases like cancer? Nobody knows for certain! So people are nervous.

Are GM crops a step too far?

Will they affect our environment — and us?

We don't know!

5 Do the group project and make a leaflet on the environment. Read the situation and follow the instructions below.

ECO-Action (Environmental Community Action; www.eco-act.org) is a new environmental group in your city. In order to encourage more people to take part in community activities, such as clearing up the local surroundings, they have decided to ask secondary school students to design a leaflet, which would invite people to participate in the forthcoming project and also provide necessary information.

- Discuss and include the following points in the text of your leaflet.
 - point out the increasing number of people taking part in such activities
 - briefly present the project
 - explain what way people can participate
 - say how this project will help the environment

2 Write 180-200 words.

- choose a catchy title
- be informative, concise and convincing
- use subheadings for clarity
- write in short sections
- write something about each of the points in the instructions
- use present tenses
- make it visually attractive

3 Present your leaflet in class.

1 a) Combine words from the box into pairs to make expressions.

endangered	species	natural	changes
ecological	climatic	politics	shrinking forests	sustainable	bottle	bank
habitats	tropical	development	damage

WHAT'S HAPPENING TO OUR ENVIRONMENT?

Many people believe that the way we live our lives today is having a very damaging effect on the environment. Here are some examples of the kinds of problems we face, followed by some things that we can do to help protect our environment.

The Greenhouse Effect. Pollution from cars, factories and power stations is causing harmful greenhouse gases to build up in the Earth's atmosphere. These gases prevent heat from escaping, and as a result our planet is getting warmer. This process is known as global warming.

Global warming is causing the ice at the North and South Poles to melt and sea levels and sea temperatures to rise, leading to serious flooding and violent storms in many parts of the world. In other places, there will be less rain and the land will be turned into desert.

Pollution. The biggest polluter today is the car. Exhaust fumes are the main cause of poor air quality, which can make people feel ill and have difficulty in breathing. This problem is especially bad in cities, where the number of cars is increasing every year, causing serious congestion and filling the air with smog. Governments try to improve the situation by encouraging people to use their cars less or buy cars that do not use as much fuel.

All over the world, wildlife habitats are being destroyed. There are many endangered species that could soon become extinct. Rainforests are being cut down so that people can grow crops and feed the world's increasing population. Modern farming methods, for example using pesticides and genetically modified crops, are having a very bad effect on the food chain. Killing insects may be useful for growing crops, but it reduces the amount of available food for other animals and birds.

Climate change is also making conditions difficult for some animals. In the Arctic, the ice is melting, threatening the survival of animals such as polar bears.

THE PICTURE

(after 'The Broken Bridge' by Ph. Pullman)

Ginny, the main character of the story, is 16. She's turning out to be a brilliant artist like her mother, who died when she was a baby. In the extract you're going to read Ginny sees her mother's picture in the art gallery.

When Ginny was first becoming interested in art and the history of painting, Dad had given her a big book with hundreds of reproductions in it. She'd pored over it with more than delight — with a kind of greed, in fact. She absorbed everything the book told her about the Renaissance, and the Impressionists, and the Cubists, about Boticelli and Monet and Picasso, and she breathed it all in like oxygen she hadn't known she was missing. And among the pictures in the book, there were two that made her gasp. One was Whistler's Arrangement¹ in Grey and Black, the portrait of his mother sitting on an upright chair, and the other was El Greco's View of Toledo. She remembered her reaction quite clearly: a sudden intake of breath, caused by sheer surprise at the arrangement of shapes and colours. It was a physical shock.

And when she looked at the big painting that dominated the end wall, the same thing happened. It would have affected her the same way whoever had painted it, because it was a masterpiece. What it showed was a middle-aged black man, in a uniform with epaulettes [epə'lets] and medals, in the act of falling on to the red-carpeted floor of a well furnished room. He'd been eating a meal, and on the table beside him there was a plate of yellow soup. Beyond him, through the open door and at the open window, stood a crowd of people, watching: white people and black, old and young, richly dressed and poverty-stricken. Some of them carried objects that helped you understand who they were: a wad of dollar bills for a banker, a clutch of guns² for an arms dealer, a chicken for a peasant; and the expressions on their faces told Ginny that they'd all in some ways been victims or accomplices³ of the man who was dying.

And all that was important, but just as important was the strange discord of the particular red of the carpet and the particular yellow of the soup, so that you knew it was something significant, and you guessed the soup had been poisoned. And the way the dying man was isolated by the acid red from every other shape in the picture, so that it looked as if he were sinking out of sight in a pool of blood. And mainly what was important was the thing that was impossible to put into words: the arrangements of the shapes on the canvas. These same elements put together differently would have been an interesting picture, but put together like this, they made Ginny catch her breath.

¹an arrangement [ə'reɪndʒmənt] — етюд

²a clutch of guns [klʌtʃ] — купа зброї

³an accomplice [ə'kʌmplɪs] — спільник, співучасник (злочину)

She began thinking of what her mother had wanted to say by the picture.

Tell the story of the corrupt¹ officer?

Yes... But not mainly. What she had probably wanted to do was just to see what happened when she put that red and that yellow together. That was what could start it. Some little technical thing like that. And the shape of the man as he falls... Because there's no shadow, you can't see easily where he is in relation to the floor. He seems to be floating in space, almost. But at the same time no one could say that the picture wasn't technically correct. It was amazing, brilliant! Ginny felt a lump in her throat.

b) Read the text again paying attention to the words in bold and using a dictionary.

Then choose the right answer (a-c) to each question.

- 1 What impression did the book given by her father make on Ginny?
 - a) She liked the chapters devoted to Boticelli, Monet and Picasso.
 - b) She had a mixed feeling of pleasure and disbelief.
 - c) She felt that she had badly needed a book like that.

- 2 What did Ginny feel when she first looked at her favourite reproductions of Whistler and El Greco?
 - a) The two pictures struck her as extremely original.
 - b) The girl was overwhelmed by the deep emotions the pictures awakened.
 - c) The girl was surprised by the colours and shapes in the pictures.

¹corrupt [кə'ɹʌpt] — продажний, корумпований

- 3 What type did the picture on the wall belong to?
- It was a genre painting.*
 - It was a portrait.*
 - It was a battle scene.*
- 4 Besides the officer's victims, who were the people in the crowd?
- His relatives.*
 - His partners in crime.*
 - His enemies.*
- 5 How could one guess that the soup in the picture had been poisoned?
- By the position of the plate.*
 - By the discord of colours.*
 - By the dark shade.*
- 6 What did Ginny's mother want to express by painting her masterpiece?
- She wanted to tell a story.*
 - She wanted to experiment with some painting techniques.*
 - She wanted to tell a story and make it more effective by using some special techniques.*

THE PARTICIPLE (Дісприкетник)

The Participle is a non-finite (безособова) form of the verb that can function as an adjective or an adverb.

Example: A broken cup lay on the floor.

They passed me talking loudly.

There are three forms of participle:

Present Participle (Participle I),

Past Participle (Participle II)

Perfect Participle.

Examples:

The Present Participle: Reading English books I wrote out new words.

(Обставина, що вказує на одночасність дії з дією присудка)

The Past Participle: The faded leaves fell to the ground.

The book taken from the library was interesting.

Written in pencil, the article was difficult to read.*

(Означення по відношенню до іменника)

The Perfect Participle: Having missed the train he spent the night at the station. Having finished school he went to Oxford.

(Позначення причини або передування дії по відношенню до дії, вираженої присудком)

2 a) Read the text and write out all participle forms of the verb. Define their functions.

THE APPROACHING STORM BY G. MORLAND

George Morland (1763-1804) was an outstanding English artist of the 18th century and a brilliant painter of landscape. Like many artists, he turned to nature for inspiration. He had an instinctive feeling for nature. Among his pictures The Approaching Storm is truly remarkable. It is, indeed, a masterpiece of the world painting. Looking at the picture, you can easily understand how keenly the artist felt nature in every detail. He was able to impart a sinister atmosphere of the coming storm. You feel the threatening silence before the storm. The sky is overcast. The first gust of wind shakes the trees, the next moment it will start raining.

The artist enlivens the landscape by two horses and a dog huddling¹ together in a little group, seeking protection from a man in danger.

This landscape is a typical example of sentimental and poetic painting.

b) Describe the picture close to the text using participle forms of the verbs.

3 Match the examples (a-e) with the names of different participle forms.

- | | |
|------------------------------|----------------------|
| 1 Present Participle | a being spoken |
| 2 Past Participle | b having been spoken |
| 3 Perfect Participle | c speaking |
| 4 Passive Participle | d having spoken |
| 5 Perfect Passive Participle | e spoken |

4 Open the brackets and use the Present Participle or Perfect Participle form.

- 1 ... (to write) out all the new words, I started to learn them.
- 2 ... (to live) in Kyiv, he was able to see all the ancient monuments.
- 3 ... (to hear) my friend's voice, I left the room to open the door.
- 4 We went home, ... (to look) through the documents.
- 5 ... (to drink) coffee she was talking to her pal.
- 6 ... (to go) down the street, the boy was looking back from time to time.
- 7 ... (to throw) the ball, the little girl ran home.

¹to huddle ['hʌdl] — тиснутися

5 Change the sentences using a participle form as in the example.

Example: After he had received all the necessary documents, he went to the police station.

Having received all the necessary documents he went to the police station.

- 1 After Mary had passed all her examinations, she went to the seaside.
- 2 After he had returned from the expedition, he made a very interesting report.
- 3 As they had lived in Spain for four years, they knew Spanish very well.
- 4 As Peter had lost the key, he could not enter the house.
- 5 As the soldiers had been wounded, they were taken to the hospital.

6 Choose the correct form of the participles.

- 1 John, (having been seen / being seen), finally admitted to his parents that he smokes.
- 2 The placement test, (carried out / carrying out) by our teachers, could give us a detailed picture of our student's knowledge.
- 3 The carpet (covered / covering) the floor in his dining room was bought in Iran.
- 4 Football fans were (asked / asking) to head towards the exit.
- 5 The documentary on animals, (being recorded / recorded) yesterday, will be shown to our students.

7 Put the verbs in brackets into the Present Participle or Past Participle.

- 1 The hunters were absolutely silent ... (follow) the tiger's footsteps.
- 2 The president climbed the stage, ... (follow) by his family.
- 3 He arranged the whole trip for the English tourists ... (wish) to visit the Carpathian Mountains.
- 4 She had to stay at the customs for 5 hours, ... (need) some extra medical papers for her dog to be allowed to enter.
- 5 ... (shock) by his boss' terrible behaviour, Helen decided to quit the post.

USEFUL

Listening for opinions is a useful skill. Try to notice if the speaker is using positive or negative words, and ask yourself how these reflect his / her viewpoint. If you hear mostly negative words, then the speaker's opinion is likely to be unfavourable. Similarly, a lot of positive words would indicate approval.

THE CONTEMPORARY MEETS THE CLASSIC

This innovative programme features a charming mix of the modern and the classic. Antony Tudor's brilliant choreography unites with Arnold Schoenberg's moving score to create Pillar of Fire, an intense psychological drama that was first performed in 1942.

Also on the programme is the smash hit Within You Without You: A Tribute to George Harrison, featuring the music by the late, great Beatle, George Harrison, and riveting choreography by Natalie Weir, Stanton Welch, David Parsons and Ann Reinking.

b) Work in groups. Speak about each picture. Use the phrases from the 'Useful Language' box below. Don't forget to mention:

- the subject (that is represented or depicted)
- the composition (how the space of the picture is used)
- the colours (how different colours are handled)
- the details (what they are and how they are related to the subject)
- the general impression the picture makes

USEFUL

Some helpful words and phrases to describe a picture:

- the space of the picture is symmetrically / asymmetrically divided;
- in the foreground / background / far distance;
- the shapes echo with each other / contrast each other;
- the picture is painted in warm / cold colours;
- the dominating colours are...;
- the colours are bright, pale, brilliant, intense, luminous, soft, pure, pastel, delicate, etc.;
- the colours contrast with each other / blend together;
- the sitter / model.

These words describe a positive impression of a picture:

- a masterpiece that can (could) stand the test of time;
- a romantic, lyrical, charming, appealing, powerful, original, outstanding painting;
- the artist demonstrates a great sense of space, a real talent as a colourist and the precision of drawing;
- the artist managed to capture the sitter's expression, the atmosphere of the place and the mood of the moment.

LANGUAGE

4 In groups, speak on the statements (1-6) on page 191. Highlight the following points about each of them:

- What does it mean?
- Do you agree? Why (not)?

- 1 It's hard to overestimate the role of art in one's life.
- 2 Art forms our outlook and enriches our inner world.
- 3 Art has a great educational significance.
- 4 Art brings people up — makes them more humane and kind.
- 5 Art holds up people's spirits in the tragic moments of their lives.
- 6 The language of art is universal.

Focus on Writing

1 a) Read the information and put 6-8 questions to it.

Reviews are brief descriptions of books, films, CDs, TV programmes, etc. They can be either formal or semi-formal in style, depending on the type of publications they appear in and who the target readers are. They are published in newspapers, journals, periodicals or magazines.

A review usually consists of:

- an introduction which briefly states all the background information concerning a book / film / TV programme, etc. (the title, the type, the author or director, the theme, main characters, etc.);
- a body consisting of two or more paragraphs giving an outline of the plot (you should NOT under any circumstances reveal the end), including an evaluation of and comments on various features, such as the direction, acting, cast, main characters, plot, sound effects, screen play, special effects, music, etc., or to put it briefly, all the good and bad points of the film, book, etc.;
- a conclusion which includes a general assessment and/or a recommendation supported by relevant reasons.

We often use present tenses when reviewing a film, a book, etc. to make the description vivid and lively. We also use a variety of adjectives to make it more interesting and appealing to the reader.

b) Ask and answer in pairs.

2 Match review parts (1-3) with their contents (a-c).

- | | | | |
|---|------------------------|---|--|
| 1 | Introductory paragraph | a | chronological outline of the plot with an evaluation of various features |
| 2 | Body paragraphs | b | general assessment and/or possible recommendation with justifications |
| 3 | Concluding paragraph | c | stating all the background information |

3 Put the parts of the review below into the correct order.

Hi,

I saw Shrek 2 for the first time yesterday. Loved it. It's about an ugly but lovable green ogre – that's Shrek – who's married to an ugly but lovable green Princess Fiona. They live in a swamp, but they go to see Fiona's parents in the Kingdom of Far, Far Away, which is really like a cross between Los Angeles, Hollywood and Disneyland. The king cannot accept Shrek as a son-in-law, and Shrek decides to drink a magic potion¹ to make him handsome and Fiona beautiful. There's also a nasty Fairy Godmother and a horrible self-centred but fantastically handsome Prince Charming, her son, who wants to take Shrek's place and become Fiona's husband. In the end, of course, Shrek and Fiona end up together, as ugly as ever.

I think the point of the film is that if you love someone, it doesn't matter about the colour of his / her skin or look. When Fiona thinks that Prince Charming is Shrek, she can't fall in love with him, even though he is so fantastically good-looking. What matters is the character of the person. You know, in most Hollywood films, everyone is so good-looking, and it is really nice to have main characters who are ugly. And although we live in a culture where everyone wants to be beautiful, when watching the film you don't want Fiona and Shrek to change – you want them to stay the ugly people they are.

¹a potion ['pʊʃn] — доза ліків (отрути); зілля

And the film's great fun – full of humour. Especially the Donkey (Eddie Murphy's voice). And visually it's brilliant. The animation is unbelievable. It was directed by Andrew Adamson. Although it's a cartoon, the facial expressions of the cartoon characters are very realistic and believable – even the Donkey's. So there were plenty of moments where I had a good laugh, and the film leaves you with a smile on your face. I'm sure you'll really like it. Shall I lend you the DVD?

See you,
Mandy

A OUT OF AFRICA

This film was nominated for 11 Oscars and it won seven. It's about a Danish writer (Meryl Streep) who goes to Africa to help her husband run a coffee plantation. To her surprise, she finds herself falling in love with the country, the people and a mysterious white hunter (Robert Redford). The film is based on an autobiographical novel by the Danish writer, Isak Dinesen, and was directed by the American director Sydney Pollack.

breathtaking scenery and a exotic wildlife, which look so wonderful on the big screen. The film also has an unforgettable soundtrack guaranteed to move even the most unromantic people.

B THE LORD OF THE RINGS

This trilogy of films won a total of 17 Oscars, including the Best Picture and the Best Director.

They are based on the books written by JRR Tolkien. They tell the story of a hobbit, Frodo Baggins, who has to try and destroy a magic ring in order to defeat the evil forces of the dark Lord Sauron. He is helped on his journey by a group of friends.

The story is set in an imaginary land called Middle Earth. All three films were filmed in New Zealand, which was chosen because of its magnificent and dramatic scenery. The director of the film, Peter Jackson, was born there. The success of the films has attracted thousands of tourists to the country, and last year it was voted the most popular holiday destination by UK travellers.

Youth in Mind

Unit 8

WARM UP

WHAT DO YOUNG PEOPLE THINK ABOUT FRIENDSHIP?

- Friendship is (very important / not important / ...) for many young people.
- I like to make friends with (people of my own age / people with similar hobbies / ...).
- A true friend is someone who (listens to me / gives me a helping hand / ...).

WHAT DO YOUNG PEOPLE THINK ABOUT THEIR FUTURE?

- Young people have to decide about (their education / their future job / their career / ...).
- They want to be (independent / responsible / ...) and (take care of themselves / live with their parents / ...).

WHAT IDEALS DO TEENAGERS HAVE?

- Teenagers often admire famous people such as (sportsmen / actors / singers / ...).
- These people are admired for doing something (extraordinary / unusual...).

IS IT DIFFICULT FOR YOUNG PEOPLE TO GET A JOB?

- Nowadays young people (face / don't face / ...) a big problem finding a good job.
- It is (difficult / easy / ...) to find a job as a (lawyer / doctor / ...) because (there are not many well-paid jobs / you have to be really good in your field / ...).

1 Brainstorm the activities that give you the opportunities:

- to develop your independent thinking and independence of character
- to develop responsibility for your own actions
- to understand the value of help, advice and encouragement

2 Read what young people say about citizenship projects they have been involved in (A-F, pp. 204-206) and refer each question (1-8) to the appropriate person.

- Which project(s):
- had very little equipment for the job?
- benefited the local economy?
- was part of normal school lessons?
- deals with a problem largely caused by local people?
- requires being taught skills?

- can involve helping injured people?
- is seasonal?

BEING GOOD CITIZENS

Our school is in a small town on the coast and tourism is very important for our community. One of the problems we've been having though is all the litter that gets left on the beaches. It's not all left by tourists. Unfortunately, most gets dumped by people who live in the area and some is washed up by the sea. Anyway, we decided to do something about it, so once a week during the summer we organised ourselves into work parties and cleaned the beaches. Apart from helping the image of the town, it gave us the chance to get plenty of fresh air.

B In citizenship classes, we visit elderly people in the community, who have difficulty in doing things for themselves, and help them. This means doing things like going to the shops and helping out in the house and garden. Sometimes, all we do is just have a chat with them. Sometimes we can find out something about life from them, because they've lived through a lot and have plenty of experience. I think it's important for different generations to look out for each other.

It's very beautiful here in the mountains and we get a lot of visitors, but beneath all the beauty it is quite a wild and dangerous place. I should know because I'm a volunteer with the local mountain rescue service. Naturally, we receive instructions on first-aid and how to use maps and compasses. I've even been in a helicopter. Last summer, I helped to find a walker who had fallen and broken his leg. If we hadn't got to him, he would have died.

I had quite a few personal problems and it was a great help when I was able to phone up and talk to someone about them. That was when I decided that I would like to help out. Basically, I'm a volunteer on a help line for young people. Teenagers who have various problems can ring us and just talk about what's worrying them. If it's something very serious, we can recommend professional help. Of course, we get training on how to handle calls, and it's a great feeling to know that you're there for people if they need you.

FRANCIS

I saw this ad in the press calling for volunteers to go and work in the Third World for a year. I decided to take a year out before university and I thought it would be a great opportunity. I ended up helping kids learn English in a village in Africa. It was a real eye-opener for me as the resources were virtually non-existent and the classes were much larger than I thought they would be. However, I learnt a lot about myself being out there and benefited enormously from the experience.

This boy in our town was very ill and needed an operation, but the waiting list was very long. So we decided to help raise money for him so he could have the operation privately, which would be a lot quicker. We decided to have a sponsored six-a-side football tournament in the gym at school. We had several teams and we all played each other round the clock for twenty-four hours. Of course, we rested while the other teams were playing, but it was exhausting. Anyway, we got family, friends and local firms to sponsor us, and we made enough money for Richard to have the operation he needed.

3 Read again and refer each person to the appropriate question.

Which person:

- learnt about the project in a newspaper? Naz
- had previously been helped by the project? ...
- found the project different from what they had expected? ...
- says the project was physically demanding? ...
- went on the project after leaving school? ...
- says you can learn from those you help? ...
- says they have developed as a person?

4 a) Work in pairs. Pay attention to the words in bold in task 2 and guess their meanings.

b) Match the words with their definitions.

- | | |
|----------------|---|
| 1 to benefit | a is not present one; isn't being used |
| 2 non-existing | nowadays |
| 3 to handle | b making you feel extremely tired |
| 4 to dump | c to put something, such as a bag, books, etc. in a careless, untidy way |
| 5 exhausting | d to bring advantages to someone or improve lives in some way |
| | e to deal with something by doing what is necessary |

5 Do the individual project 'Citizenship for Young People' and make a presentation. Read the situation and follow the instructions below.

You are a PR (public relations) expert for an independent educational organisation called Citizenship for Young People whose goal is to encourage and enable young people to play an effective role in democratic society. The local school authorities have asked you to give a presentation on your organisation.

- 1 Brainstorm the ideas.
- 2 Include the following points:
 - basic information
 - programmes
 - goals
 - plans for future
- 3 Revise the rules for making and giving a presentation (see page 37).
- 4 Give your presentation in class.

FOR YOU

Develop Your Vocabulary

1 a) Guess the meanings of the following words (1-6) and match them with their definitions (a-f).

- | | |
|--------------------|---|
| 1 selfish | a feeling sure of their abilities and worth |
| 2 self-disciplined | b are able to control themselves and make themselves work hard or |
| 3 self-interested | behave in a particular way without |
| 4 self-confident | needing anyone else to tell them what to do |
| 5 self-educated | c always want to do what is best for themselves rather than for anyone else |
| 6 self-possessed | d care only about themselves, and not about other people |
| | e are calm and confident and in control of their emotions |
| | f have learnt a skill by themselves |

b) Say which of the characteristics above are positive? Why?

self-confident or self-assured?

The words self-confident and self-assured are very close in meaning. They both are used to show that a person can deal with a situation successfully and is not worried that he/she could do something wrong or fail.

The adjective self-assured usually stresses that people are very confident in the way they deal with other people, especially in public situations when other people's attention is fixed on them.

Dr Lauren was a very self-assured woman. She answered the difficult questions of the audience in a very assured way.

Self-confident people are sure that they have abilities and are attractive and that other people like them.

Self-confident people are not afraid or nervous in social situations.

As a child he was always self-confident, happily joining in adult conversations.

2 Find Ukrainian equivalents for these words and word combinations.

- | | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|-------------------|
| 1 a self-addressed envelope | 5 self-discipline | 10 self-mockery |
| 2 self-admiration | 6 self-educated | 11 self-neglect |
| 3 self-centred | 7 self-importance | 12 self-pity |
| 4 self-coloured | 8 self-love | 13 self-reproach |
| | 9 self-made | 14 self-sacrifice |

3 Think about word-formation in English and name the antonyms to the following adjectives:

- | | | |
|------------|--------------|---------------|
| 1 tolerant | 6 dependent | 11 supportive |
| 2 flexible | 7 civilised | 12 reasonable |
| 3 patient | 8 controlled | 13 willing |
| 4 tidy | 9 fair | 14 moral |
| 5 ashamed | 10 polite | 15 balanced |

4 Work in pairs. Read and explain the meanings of the following words. Use the synonyms.

It is generally believed that teenagers tend to become:

- rebellious
- ill-mannered, impertinent¹ or cheeky
- aggressive and violent
- skeptical or cynical
- intolerant and inflexible
- impatient and flighty
- clumsy² and awkward
- untidy or scruffy³
- too self-assured or cocky
- over-ambitious
- shy of talking about their problems
- afraid to be seen as losers
- scared of being lonely, bullied or rejected

b) Speak on the question.

- Why do adults often see the age between 13 and 19 as 'difficult'?

¹impertinent [ɪm'pɜːtɪnənt] — зухвалий, нахабний

²clumsy ['klʌmzi] — незграбний; нетактовний

³scruffy ['skrʌfi] — неохайний

The Infinitive is the base form of a verb that you will find in a dictionary. There are, however, four other forms of the infinitive: the perfect infinitive, the perfect continuous infinitive, the continuous infinitive and the passive infinitive.

The present infinitive has two forms:

to-infinitive = to + base zero infinitive = base

The negative infinitive is formed by putting 'not' in front of any form of the infinitive

I decided not to go to London.

He asked me not to be late.

GRAMMAR LINKS

1 Match the names of the different infinitive forms (1-6) with the examples (a-f).

- | | |
|--|------------------------|
| 1 Present Infinitive | a to have sent |
| 2 Perfect Infinitive | b to send |
| 3 Present Continuous Infinitive | c to be sent |
| 4 Perfect Continuous Infinitive | d to have been sending |
| 5 Present Infinitive Passive | e to have been sent |
| 6 Perfect Infinitive Passive | f to be sending |

USE OF TO-INFINITIVES

The to-infinitive form is used in many sentence constructions, often

- to express the purpose or intention of an action. In this case 'to' has the same meaning as in order to or so as to.

I am calling to ask you about dad.

You sister has gone to finish her homework.

- to express someone's opinion about something.

It is good for you to learn a foreign language.

It is a stupid way to behave.

- to indicate what smth can or will be used for

The children need a garden to play in.

I would like a sandwich to eat.

GRAMMAR LINKS

USE OF ZERO-INFINITIVES

- the zero-infinitive after auxiliaries
She can't speak to you.
Would you like a cup of coffee?
- after verbs of perception
(the pattern is verb + object + zero infinitive)
He saw her fall from the cliff.
We heard them close the door.
- after the verbs 'make' and 'let'
Her parents let her stay out late.
Let's go to the cinema tonight.
You made me come with you.
- with 'why' (when making suggestions)
Why wait until tomorrow?
Why not ask him now?

FOR YOU

3 Listen and sing along.

Here is a little song I wrote.

You might want to sing it note for note,
 'Don't worry, be happy!'
 In every life we have some trouble
 When you worry you make it double.
 Don't worry, be happy ...
 Ain't got no place to lay your head,
 Somebody came and took your bed.
 Don't worry, be happy.
 The landlord say your rent is late,
 He may have no litigate¹.
 Don't worry, be happy.
 Look at me — I am happy.
 Don't worry, be happy.
 Here I give you my phone number.
 When you worry call me,
 I make you happy.
 Don't worry, be happy.

don't

Ain't got no cash,
 ain't got no style,
 Ain't got no girl to make you smile.
 But don't worry, be happy.
 'Cause when you worry
 Your face will frown².
 And that will bring everybody down.

So don't worry, be happy (now) ...
 There is this little song I wrote.
 I hope you learn it note for note
 Like good little children.
 Don't worry, be happy.
 Listen to what I say,
 In your life expect some trouble.
 But when you worry
 You make it double.
 Don't worry, be happy
 Don't worry, don't do it, be happy,
 Put a smile on your face.
 Don't bring everybody down like this.
 Don't worry, it will soon past
 Whatever it is.
 Don't worry, be happy!

FOR YOU

- 2 Speak on certain dangers and hardships that may occur in young people's lives and discuss the questions on page 216 in pairs. Use some of the following ideas.

Modern life exposes young people to certain dangers and hardships. Some teens may:

- believe that only fit, healthy and glamorous people can be a success and copy fashion models and pop stars
- become fans of a sports team or a pop singer and dedicate their lives to this passion
- become net addicts and spend too much time with the computer

- get bored or depressed and think that nothing interesting can happen to them
- try to earn their own money and begin to neglect their school and homework
- fail to think of what to do with themselves in their spare time and waste the best years of their lives
- forget that parents remain the most important people in teenagers' lives and become unsupportive
- give up too easily when they feel that too much pressure is put on them
- ruin their health at a young age
- fall victims to crime

- 1 Do you have a lot of problems? How do you try to solve them?
- 2 Do you ask anybody for advice? Do you talk about your problems with other people?
- 3 What kinds of problems do your classmates usually have?
- 4 Have you ever solved somebody else's problem?
- 5 Have you ever written to an advice column? Do you often read the advice columns in magazines? What can you learn from the answers? Are all problems of equal importance?
- 6 In what way are today's young Ukrainians different from those of the same age six or seven years ago?

3 Work in pairs and try to describe a typical Ukrainian teenager. Use the phrases below if you think they are appropriate.

- can't get along with adults or their peers
- feel self-conscious about their looks
- experiment with their appearances
- loudly protest against being treated like children
- seek independence in everything
- have low or high self-esteem
- lose self-confidence
- develop complexes (like inferiority or superiority complexes)
- try to look cool in front of (in the eyes of) their friends
- embarrass their parents by outrageous or unsocial behaviour

Essays Suggesting Solutions to Problems

An essay discussing problems and providing solutions is a type of discursive essay where you present the problem, its causes, and then suggest solutions, at the same time anticipating¹ likely results or effects. An essay of this type consists of:

- an introduction in which you state the problem with its causes and current effects;
- a body in which you give your suggestions with their expected results;
- a conclusion in which you give a summary of your opinion.

WRITING
POINT

1 Work in groups. Read the situation and discuss the problems. Give your opinion on the suggested solutions and results.

Hundreds and hundreds of teenagers regularly go out at the weekend. They spend their time in discos, talking to friends, smoking, drinking, etc.

We all see them in the early morning hours, some of them barely able to walk. Binge¹ drinking is obviously becoming a serious problem among teenagers. What might be done about it?

The law on the sales of alcohol to minors ² is not obeyed.	strict implementation of the law, high fines for offenders	alcohol not sold to minors (minors stay sober)
The working hours of discos are too long	change the working hours, make them more suitable for minors	teenagers would still have fun, but be home on time
The youngsters are staying out late. (lack of sleep)	different working hours of discos, places for teenagers	healthier lifestyle for teenagers

¹a binge [bɪndʒ] — гульня, пиятика

²a minor ['maɪnə] — неповнолітній; підліток wrong role models	provide new models, introduce new values	different models and values to follow lack of information on the dangers of drinking	parents talking to teenagers, school providing relevant information	teenagers aware of the dangers

2 Describe the community you live in. Answer the questions and complete the table below.

Do you like living there? In your opinion, what are the benefits of having a flat there? Are there any problems you would like to point out?

problems	solutions	results

3 In groups, choose one of the topics (1-9) and discuss it. Complete the table 'Problems. Solutions. Results' above. See the example in task 1.

- 1 How can my generation make our home town a better place to live?
- 2 How to keep fit?
- 3 How to reduce violence among young people?
- 4 How can I improve my grades?
- 5 How to deal with the problem of young highly educated people leaving Ukraine?
- 6 How to integrate HIV-positive students into regular classes?
- 7 How can I control my emotions?
- 8 What can we do to improve the quality of lives of our disabled citizens?
- 9 What can we do to prevent forest fires during the summer?

4 Write an essay suggesting solutions to the problem on one of the topics above. Use a formal style and appropriate transitional words / phrases.

EMOTIONAL MATURITY¹

emotion According to psychologists, we become ... mature when we outgrow our childish anger and fear.

break Do you remember what made you angry when you were a young child? Typically, young children get angry over possessions². For example, they get angry if a toy ... or if it won't do what they want it to do; they ... with each other over toys. They also get angry when their parents want them to do something that they don't want to do. They fight frustrate They scream, shout, lie on the floor and beat it with their hands angry and legs and seem quite out of control. Early childhood behave can be a very ... time. In adolescence, however, the major cause of ... comes from social situations. Adolescents are easily annoyed by the ... of others and feel offended³ and embarrassed by what others say or do. Adults, on the other hand, become angry when their sense of abstract justice is offended.

anxious With regard to fear, children are afraid of things like dogs, storms and the dark, and some of these fears continue in adolescence and adulthood. Early adolescence is a time of worry about family and school, and in middle adolescence there is also ... about boy-girl relationships, career and religion. In late adolescence, people typically suffer from a feeling of personal inadequacy; they feel that success they are not being ... and not working hard enough; they worry about the impression they make on others.

real Becoming mature is about not running away from person ... , not taking ... things and not getting angry in trivial situations. It's all about adapting to the world and finding our place in it.

¹a maturity [mə'tʃʊrɪti] — зрілість

²possessions [pə'zeɪnz] — власність; майно

³to feel offended — почуватися ображеним

3 a) Role-play the situation in pairs.

Elizabeth and Roger have been together for two years. Everything was going fine — they studied together, went to discos together and visited friends together. They were in love. One day, Roger suddenly broke up with her. Elizabeth rarely saw him. A friend of hers told her that he was hanging around with some guys who looked thin, ill and almost transparent. One day she met him but he didn't want to listen to her when she tried to warn him.

His grades were getting worse and worse. He was seen in strange company with some older boys who had a reputation of being heavily into drugs. Roger's mother was in tears, begging for help. His class teacher was worried. Elizabeth decided to talk to him seriously. What would you suggest Elizabeth to tell him?

b) Perform your dialogue in class. Compare it with the dialogues made by other pairs.

Discuss and vote for the best role-play.

Reading

4 a) Read and learn about emotional intelligence and some of Mr Goleman's suggestions to control emotions.

For Goleman, Emotional Intelligence includes:

- self-awareness — knowing your emotions, recognising your feelings as they occur and discriminating between them
- mood management — handling feelings so they're relevant to the current situation and you react appropriately
- self-motivation — directing yourself towards a goal
- empathy — recognising feelings in others
- managing relationships — handling interpersonal interaction, conflict resolution and negotiations

And how can we control our emotions? Here are some suggestions:

- 1 Face the emotion. Be aware of the feeling.
- 2 Analyse the situation. Are you sure that the situation really is as you think it is? Perhaps you've misinterpreted it.
- 3 Use up the extra energy. Do something that helps you 'let off steam'.

Check Your English

4 Do something that improves the situation. For example, if you are afraid of failing an exam, work on the subject so there is no reason to fear. If you are afraid of talking to people at a party, practise going up to people and talking to them.

b) Match the sentences (1-5) with five aspects of emotional intelligence.

- | | |
|--|---------------------------------|
| 1 I can see that she's feeling angry. | a Self-awareness |
| 2 I'm feeling angry. | b Mood management |
| 3 I'm feeling angry so I'd better calm down so I don't make the situation worse. | c Self-motivation |
| 4 Maybe we could reach a compromise. | d Empathy |
| 5 I'm going to pass that exam. | e Managing relationships |

c) Refer the sentences below (a-d) to the suggestions (1-4) in task 4a about how to control our emotions.

- a I think I'll go jogging.
b I'm afraid of heights.
c I'm afraid of heights, so I'll climb that tower.
d Maybe she didn't mean what I thought she meant.

I CAN ...

- read about and understand the importance of being a good citizen
- listen to and understand the information about emotions and how to deal with them
- talk about the problems of young people
- discuss the ways to look after myself
- understand and use the Infinitive
- write an essay suggesting solutions to problems

UKRAINE: FROM PAST TO FUTURE

In 1991 Ukrainians made a conscious choice in favour of an independent Ukraine. Nowadays it is very important to take advantage of an opportunity to build a new country, a democratic and sovereign Ukraine, a Ukraine of the future. We should try to reform our state for the sake of the country of this type.

Ukraine is not a political novice on the international arena. We were one of the co-founders of the UN¹. We have successfully integrated ourselves into many international structures like the Council of Europe²

² the Council of Europe — Рада Європи

³ the OSCE (Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe) — ОБСЄ (Організація з безпеки і співробітництва у Європі)

the OSCE³ and the WTO⁴. At the same time, we continue to look for a good security model to protect our country and our citizens. Resolving national security issue and fighting against foreign aggression will be some of our key tasks in the future.

Another important factor to our success is related to building a democratic society, in which government and common people are dedicated to some fundamental principles – the rule of law, openness and transparency. We need to have an agreement about the kind of future we want for Ukraine. Young or old, Ukrainian-speaking or Russian-speaking, Hutsuls or Tatars may have very different attitudes. However, we need to come together as a nation to overcome many problems that we faced after the collapse of the Soviet Union.

Modern Ukraine can offer a lot to the world. It has a large territory and one of the largest populations among European countries. There are many examples of success in farming, business and tourism. According to one ranking, our country is 33rd in the world for the IT start-ups at the moment. We have something to be proud of and need to keep moving forward.

What is more, we need to create a society where members not only enjoy their rights, but takes responsibility for their house, their town and their country. We should not expect that somebody will fix our problems, but should focus on what we can do for ourselves and build a Ukraine of the future today.

3 Read the article again and complete the sentences.

5 Great Britain voted to leave the European Union. Say what you know about Brexit. Choose the best answers to the questions below and then read the text to check them up.

- 1 When was the Brexit referendum?
 a) 2016 b) 2017 c) 2018
- 2 What percentage of UK citizens actually voted?
 a) 51.8% b) 61.8% c) 71.8%
- 3 How many British people voted to leave the European Union?
 a) 62% b) 52% c) 72%

BREXIT: FACTS AND NUMBERS

On 23 June 2016 Great Britain voted to leave the European Union – a partnership that allows people and products to move freely around the EU member states. This result was a surprise for people on both sides of the vote. Over 30 million UK citizens took part in this referendum, so the turnout was pretty high – about 71.8%.

A majority of British voters (around 52%) voted to leave the EU. However, there were differences across the country. For example, Scotland and Northern Ireland wanted to remain in the EU while Wales and England voted to leave it. As a result of the referendum, British Prime Minister David Cameron decided to resign.

For the time being it is difficult to say how the Brexit vote will influence British politics and economy. British citizens may face some restrictions when living in the EU. EU citizens may need a work permit to work in the UK. The situation will depend on the agreement between the UK and EU. It is possible, for example, that British and EU citizens will be allowed to visit each other for up to 90 days without needing a visa.

It is important to remember that the UK did not formally leave the EU after the Brexit referendum. The country prepares to leave the EU on 29 March 2019. At the moment British politicians are discussing the details of this event with their European counterparts. The situation is changing very quickly, so it is important to check for the latest updates in the news.

6 Read the text in task 5 again and say if the sentences below are true or false.

- 1 The European Union is a partnership that allows people and products to move freely around member states.
- 2 Prime Minister David Cameron continues to work for the British government.
- 3 The UK formally left the EU after Brexit.
- 4 If the United Kingdom formally leaves the EU, British people may need a visa to stay in EU countries for a long period of time.
- 5 The UK prepares to formally leave the EU in 2019.

7 In groups discuss the following questions.

- 1 What do you think about the results of the Brexit referendum?
- 2 Do you think the UK will formally leave the EU in 2019?
- 3 What do you think will happen to British political situation and economy when the UK leaves the EU?

Develop Your Vocabulary

Brexit, n — ['brɛksɪt] or ['brɛgzɪt] — an abbreviation for “British exit,” refers to the UK’s vote on June 23, 2016 to leave the European Union:
Theresa May says that formal Brexit discussions will start in spring.

referendum, n — [rɪfə'rendəm] — a vote in which all the people in a country are asked to decide about an important question:
A referendum was held on the question of whether the UK should remain a member of the EU.

vote, n — [vəʊt] — showing your choice or opinion by writing a mark on an official paper:
She cast her vote against Brexit.

Imagine there's no heaven,
It's easy if you try.
No hell below us,
Above us only sky, Imagine

all the people,
Living for today,
A-ha.

Imagine there's no countries,
It isn't hard to do,
Nothing to kill or die for,
And no religion too,
Imagine all the people
Living life in peace, yu-huh.

YOU MAY SAY
I'M A DREAMER
BUT I'M NOT THE ONLY ONE
I HOPE SOME DAY YOU'LL JOIN US
AND THE WORLD WILL LIVE AS ONE

You may say I'm a dreamer,
But I'm not the only one.
I hope some day you'll join us,
And the world will be one.

Imagine no possessions,
I wonder if you can,
No need for greed or hunger,
A brotherhood of man,
Imagine all the people
Sharing all the world, yu-huh.

You may say I'm a dreamer,
But I'm not the only one.
I hope some day you'll join us,
And the world will live as one.

FOR YOU

2 a) Read the following examples of activities that young people may do to help solve problems in their country. Then answer the following questions in groups.

- 1 Do you approve or disapprove of these activities?
- 2 Which ones are the most effective in our country? Why?
 - Use social media to discuss social or political problems
 - Create an online petition
 - Raise money
 - Volunteer
 - Write an article about the problem
 - Educate other people
 - Register to vote in the next election
 - Encourage others to vote

b) Think about some other ideas for activities that young people may do. Share your opinions in pairs.

3 Read the information and role-play the interview.

- In June 1993, the Copenhagen European Council laid down the criteria for accession:
 - 1 an applicant country must have achieved stability of institutions guaranteeing democracy, the rule of law, human rights, and respect for and protection of minorities;
 - 2 it must have a functioning market economy, as well as the capacity to cope with the competitive pressure and market forces within the EU;
 - 3 it must have the ability to take on the obligations of membership, including adherence to the objectives of political, economic and monetary union.
- Enlargement is a crucial step in the shaping of a reconciled¹, peaceful and democratic Europe. The possibility of achieving this historic objective became a real prospect in November 1989 with the fall of the Berlin Wall and the break-up of the Soviet empire. This opened the way to German integration and free, democratic elections in all the central and eastern European countries.
- In order to help the candidate countries prepare for EU membership, the EU designed special programmes to provide assistance and promote investment. These programmes include: Phare (institution building, economic and social cohesion, industrial restructuring), ISPA (environment and transport investment support) and Sapard (modernisation of agriculture and rural development).

Student A, you're a Ukrainian journalist who is going to interview your colleague from a country that is a member of the European Union. Use the short passages above to ask questions.

Student B, you're a journalist of a country that is a member of the European Union. You're going to be interviewed by your Ukrainian colleague. Use the short passages above to answer his/her questions.

Focus on Writing

A well-written article consists of:

- a brief, attractive headline / title which introduces the topic of the article;
- an interesting introduction which clearly states the topic;
- a body consisting of several paragraphs in which the subject is developed;
- a conclusion which may give a summary of the topic and/or offer an opinion or comment.

WRITING
POINT

1 Read and discuss the information in pairs.

HOW TO WRITE

EYE-CATCHING HEADLINES (TITLES)

A headline / title should be a short and clear summary of the information presented in the article. Attract your readers' interest by giving them a clear idea what your article is going to be about. The topic should be mentioned in the title.

These are the basic rules:

- 1 make it SHORT, CLEAR and APPEALING
- 2 use the Present Simple (it makes the events vivid)
- 3 put nouns one after another
- 4 use abbreviations

(Note: omit articles and prepositions)

2 Change the following sentences into attractive headlines applying the guidelines mentioned in task 1.

- 1 Last night the President returned from his one-week holidays which he spent on safari in Kenya.
- 2 The Prime Minister announced that the following elections would take place in December.

- 3 Two people were killed and three injured when a car crashed into a tanker parked by the road.
- 4 Ms Alicia Bedford, a three-time Academy Award Winner, was found dead in her house in Malibu yesterday.
- 5 Special Task Police Forces surrounded a family house in the quiet suburb of Chester and apprehended¹ two men and a woman.

3 Choose one of the following writing tasks. Write notes and suggest the appropriate headline. Outline the plan for your article. Finally, write the article in 250-300 words.

USEFUL

Writing an Article

- 1 Before you start writing your article decide who the readers are and what its purpose is.
- 2 Think of a short, intriguing headline / title.
- 3 Use either a formal or informal style depending on your readers and your topic.
- 4 Organise your ideas and information into well-planned paragraphs using appropriate transitional words / phrases.
- 5 In longer articles each paragraph can be preceded by a subheading.

TIPS

- 1 The newspaper you are working for has asked you to write an article about young people and their attitudes to politics.
- 2 You have been asked to write an article for an international magazine about the education system in your country.
- 3 You are a reporter for a popular youth magazine. Write an article describing the learning styles of teenagers.

Use Your Skills

2 Open the brackets and use the Gerund, the Present Participle or the Infinitive with or without 'to'.

- 1 Let him ... (come) again tomorrow.
- 2 Do you allow them ... (smoke) in here?
- 3 I stopped for a moment to ... (speak) to him.
- 4 He is not yet used to ... (operate) this machine.
- 5 I need ... (see) Dr Smith at once.
- 6 This machine needs ... (attend) to.

3 a) In pairs, discuss the following questions.

- 1 How different are Ukrainians from the people in the rest of the world?
- 2 What do you know about our diaspora in other countries?
- 3 Comment on the relationship of Ukraine with the EU member states.
- 4 What do you think Ukraine will be like twenty years from now?

b) Share your viewpoints with other pairs.

4 Expand on the following.

- 1 The end of the cold war opened new prospects for peace and cooperation.
- 2 The era of globalisation is transforming the world bringing knowledge, information and economic opportunity into all corners of the world.
- 3 Today the international community faces a large number of dramatic and profound changes that bring threats to social unity, cultural diversity and the environment.
- 4 People of the world can resist such long-standing problems as drug trafficking, organised crime, nationalism and ethnic tensions only through international cooperation.

5 a) Complete the interview of a well-known journalist with the leader of the Independent Party Mr. N. with paragraphs A-C and answer the questions after it (see page 244).

1 Interviewer: It has been a week since you were elected to be a leader of the Independent Party. What are your thoughts on this?

Mr N.:...

2 Interviewer: There are over fifty registered parties in our country at the moment. What makes your political group unique¹?

Mr N.:...

3 Interviewer: Our country is facing many problems right now. What are some of the main issues, in your opinion, that must be resolved?

Mr.N.: ...

A We really need to reform our schools, our hospitals and our police. We must also focus on what people can do for themselves in their own families and communities. In the end, people want to live in a democratic society where they can make their own decisions about their future lives. We need to trust our citizens to make the right choices. We believe we can transform our country after the election and people will start to believe in their government and above all, in themselves.

B It is a great honour that so many party members asked me to lead our party to victory at the next election. I do not think that our return to power after ten years in opposition² will be easy.

¹unique [ju:'ni:k] — унікальний

²opposition [ɒpə'zɪʃən] — опозиція

However, I am thankful for this opportunity and I am also very optimistic about our chances of winning.

- C I think that our country has had enough of the dishonest and corrupt politicians. I would like to create a different kind of party. I want to lead a political group that is trusted by our citizens. We say what we mean and mean what we say at all times.
- 1 What are Mr. N.'s thoughts in connection with his election as a leader of the Independent Party?
 - 2 In what way is his party unique?
 - 3 What social or political problems does this country face at the moment?
 - 4 What solutions to these problems does Mr. N. suggest?
 - 5 Which institutions need to be reformed according to Mr. N.?

b) Pretend you are a journalist. Write down the questions you could ask Mr. N. Role-play your interview.

- 1 Each group chooses one of the topics below and prepares a talk. You can find some materials in the Internet or other sources. Use the phrases from the box and 'Useful Tips' on page 248.

THE TOPIC OF THE SEMINAR: PEOPLE AND SOCIETY

The questions to be considered:

1 The Future of Europe

- How do you see the future of Europe? Are all European countries likely to unite? What are the pros and cons of such uniting?
- What do you know about the European Union? Why was it formed? Which European countries have joined it and which haven't? Would you like Ukraine to join? Why?

2 International Relations is an important point of any state.

People and governments of goodwill have always aspired to a lasting peace in the world. To this end they:

- cooperate or unite efforts with other countries
- hold international meetings, conferences, summits, negotiations, talks on problems of war and peace
- sign international treaties
- try to keep international peace and security
- seek to ban and gradually eliminate weapons, especially weapons of mass destruction
- do their best to settle local conflicts and restore peace in troubled areas
- take steps to ease world tensions
- pledge not to use force in international relations
- stop terrorist attacks
- fight against terrorism
- save generations to come from (the) horrors of war

3 The rights of countries and individuals is an important aspect of life in the world.

People also aspire to justice and encourage their governments to recognise the rights of countries and individuals. Countries are entitled to independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity. Individuals are entitled to civil and political rights and liberties (freedoms).

Some of the civil rights are:

- the right to work
- the right to health care
- the right to education
- the right to travel
- the right to housing
- the right to life
- the right to fair trial

People's rights can be:

- declared or not declared
- provided or not provided to them
- respected or not respected
- protected or not protected
- observed or not observed
- implemented or not implemented
- violated or not violated
- abused or not abused

Use Your Skills

International law also provides for:

- human treatment of civilians in wartime
- protection of sick and wounded soldiers
- fair treatment of prisoners of war, refugees and hostages

Thanks to such laws every person can complain about human rights violations.

- 2 Provide your seminar in class.

USEFUL

Providing a Seminar

Starting your seminar:

- 1 Say what the topic is.
- 2 Say why you have chosen that topic.
- 3 Outline the structure of the task.
- 4 Give a summary of the theory.
 - When giving a talk in a seminar, don't just read aloud from a prepared script. Refer to notes, and try to speak to the audience and engage them directly.
 - Remember about good eye contact and your body language.
 - The more enthusiastic you appear and sound, the more interested your audience will be.
 - You can sound enthusiastic when you speak by:
 - raising the pitch of you voice
 - emphasising the key words

FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF UKRAINE

- A Ukraine has wide relations with many countries of the world. The Ukrainian leaders pay official visits to different countries. During these visits a number of important political agreements are

¹a segregation [ˌsegrɪˈgeɪʃn] — ізоляція; відокремлення reached. First and foremost Ukraine gives priority to developing its relations with neighbouring states.

- B On an ever growing scale the Ministry of Foreign Affairs assists the Ukrainian business in entering the foreign market, provides them with diplomatic and political support and helps in searching for business partners abroad.

Recently a great number of various joint ventures and economic, cultural and political projects have appeared in Ukraine.

Our specialists in different fields improve their qualification abroad.

- C We also have programmes of students' and schoolchildren's exchange.

English, Canadian and American children visit Ukrainian families, go to Ukrainian schools, while Ukrainian children stay at their host families abroad.

These exchange programmes help us to understand each other better, to study culture and traditions of other countries.

- D A lot of Ukrainians have immigrated to Great Britain. That's why in 1947 the Association of Ukrainians in Great Britain was founded.

This association has some Help Funds that sponsor different important actions.

The association gives help to the Ukrainian students who study in British Universities.

The same associations and societies exist in many other countries.

- E From year to year the number of spheres of our relations with the countries abroad grow.

Ukraine is a member of many international organisations like the Council of Europe or the United Nations. This means that in many spheres of life Ukraine supports the policy of peace and cooperation, mutual understanding and recognition of the priority of universal human values.
